

Soviet Prison Story Is "Moving Chronicle"

A moving chronicle of human faith and endurance under almost impossible conditions, said Father Robert Kanka in reviewing "With God in Russia," by Jesuit Father Walter Ciszek.

His critique was the last in the current "Nocturnal" Review series offered at the Catholic Evidence Library during the winter months.

The book is a narrative of the Jesuit's 23 years inside Soviet Russia (1940-63), 15 of which years were spent in prison or concentration camps.

"Father Ciszek writes in a calm, matter-of-fact style that belies the painful years he endured," the reviewer commented.

He said that the Jesuit priest explains in the book what he meant by saying that "God's providence" was a sufficient answer to the question he was often asked on his release in 1963:

"How did you survive it, all?"

Father Ciszek felt it providential that he had been a "tough" boy when young. (And he meant "tough"; he was a youthful street fighter in a Pennsylvania mining town.)

"A passion for physical fitness marked his early years, and he followed a strict exercise pattern of 45 minutes daily all through the seminary," the reviewer added.

It was providential, too, that as a Jesuit seminarian in 1930, young Ciszek heard a visiting priest appeal for volunteers for the new formed "Russian Mission" the Jesuits were starting.

"He made up his mind in a flash, followed the speaker out of the room, and told him that he felt this was where he belonged."

Ordained in 1937 after training at the Russicum, Rome's theological college for the Russian Mission, Father Ciszek was sent first to Poland.

The outbreak of World War II gave him and two other Jesuit colleagues a chance to slip into Russia.

"With their part of Poland already occupied by Russians, they reasoned that they were already in Russia, and might as well go in a bit farther," Father Kanka went on.

Father Ciszek managed to last only one year in Russia, when he was arrested as a "Vatican spy," and began his nightmarish round of the Russian prisons and concentration camps.

"Even when he could not say Mass actually, he said the prayers of the Mass daily, hav-

Women Plan Interracial Forum at Y

Three Rochester women, the Council of Catholic Women, the Council of Jewish Women and the YWCA, will present an inter-racial forum at the YWCA Wednesday, March 31.

Dr. Zelma George, a Negro lecturer and professional singer, will be the speaker. Dr. George, daughter of a minister, has starred in two operas, has been an official delegate to the UN, and has served on the boards of many national civic agencies.

Her topic, "Understanding the Negro Spiritual," will describe the Negro's cultural contributions to America. As a speaker, Dr. George will illustrate her talk by singing some of these spirituals.

Presiding at the Forum will be Mrs. J. Stewart Zahniser of the YWCA. Sister Helen Daniel, president of Nazareth College, will give the invocation, and Mrs. Julius Spivack, board member of the Council of Jewish Women, will give the closing prayer. A book display from the Rochester Public Library will be arranged by Miss Ruth Ashburn of the Council of Catholic Women.

Reservations for the Forum, including lunch and Dr. George's talk, may be made by calling the YWCA, 546-5820 by noon of March 29. A nursery for children aged 2-5 will be provided.

Provincial's Election Oakland—(NC)—Election of Father Francis H. Ward, O.P., as provincial of the Dominicans' Holy Name province, which covers the western U.S., has been confirmed. It was announced at St. Albert's College.
