Caldwell, Cook Opens North American House

Caldwell & Cook's newest model home, the North American House, opened for inspection Sunday, April 4, in the firm's Heritage Farm development in Greece.

Located at 884 Heritage Dr. (off English Rd.) the house is one that has been consumer tested and adopted over a nine year period and has proved extremely popular both in the United States and Canada.

A spacious L-shaped living-dining area with a fireplace in the living room, a family room, kitchen, powder room and laundry room comprise the main level of the home.

The upper level contains three large bedrooms and a centrally located bath.

An unusual feature is a downstairs multi-purpose area well lighted by six full-sized windows. A fireplace opening makes possible an extra recreation or hobby area. Provision for a powder room makes a fourth bedroom suite possible.

The new model has been furnished and decorated by Sibley's.

Fisher Ends First Varsity Season

With all varsity sports schedules except golf completed for the 1964-65 school year, St. John Fisher College athletic director Robert F. "Bobby" Wanzer looks back on the first year of all-varsity competition for the Cardinals as a "good beginning."

"Considering the high caliber of competition from opponents with firmly established athletic programs, our boys can be proud of their play in all sports over the past year," Wanzer said.

Although St. John Fisher opened its doors in 1951, it was not until Wanzer was hired as part-time basketball coach in 1960 that the Cardinals began to field representative teams. The former pro basketball great was named full-time athletic director at the Basilian institution two years ago. He serves as head coach of the basketball and golf teams in addition to supervising an extensive intramural program.

Wanzer's hoopsters posted a 9-8 record in the recently completed basketball season. Late-season injuries and the fact that several members voluntarily removed themselves from the squad to concentrate on studies helped to account for an off-pace finish which saw the Cards drop four of five games at the tail end of the schedule. Several of the losses were by narrow margins. Given a few breaks the story could have been better, but 9-8 against varsity competition is, as Wanzer said, "a good beginning."

Only two seniors were on the 1964-65 squad, which should mean that there will be many familiar names on next year's roster.

On the soccer pitch the Cardinals chalked up a 6-2 record last fall. Their only two losses, each by one point, were to Fredonia State, always a power in State University College play, and a graduate-packed club from McMaster University. Coach Ed Granato's All-State selectee, Vito Siscioli, will be back next year. Granato will lose four seniors.

Cardinal harriers were victorious in four of seven cross-country meets held last autumn. The four top runners were freshmen. One has since left school, but the others, topped by Mike Connor, should provide a fine nucleus for Coach Ed Felix when he issues the call for candidates in September.

Fisher linksmen won their only dual meet of the fall against Monroe Community College. A return match with Monroe and a pair of matches each with R.I.T. and Brockport State are booked for April and May, with the opener against R.I.T. on April 23.

A busy intramural schedule includes touch football, basketball, volleyball, and softball. Facilities are also available in the Fisher Athletic Center for golf driving, ping-pong, weight training, and wrestling. Wrestling will be added to the intramural program next year, and Wanzer also hopes to begin intercollegiate wrestling on the freshman level. Recently he interviewed several pros-
