At Our House®
Questions and Answers

By MARY TINLEY DALY
We hear and read much of Operation Headstart these days, giving underprivileged preschoolers a broad background in knowledge of the things around them. Wholeheartedly we applaud the purpose, the efforts and the results achieved by those dedicated to helping such children.
Surely they epitomize the saying of Thomas Carlyle, "Love is ever the beginning of knowledge, as fire is of light."
In retrospect, we rather shamefacedly confess that we did little along this line when our own were tots. Seems as though, during those years, there was such a never-ending round of doing what had to be done at the moment that there was scant time or energy to Forgive Us, Oudaby, Swift and Armour — but should we let the bacon burn while we delved into a more accurate description?

As Alice spread cheese on the bread preparatory to its topping of tomato and bacon and a slide under the broiler, we went equally as skin-deep into the dairy industry and its making of cheese.
How Come?
In the course of eating lunch, we discussed changes in the Church, occasioned by the Grace Before Meals when we old-fashionedly said "Holy Ghost" and were challenged. "We say 'Holy Spirit.' How come you and Grandpa say 'Holy Ghost?'" why thunder follows lightning which room their mother slept in when she was a little girl; why Grandpa's hair is white and their Daddy's is black; and why children had to take a nap in the afternoon.

Thus proceeded the visit: perpetual bombardment of question, comment, an insatiable curiosity about the sights, sounds, smells, the feel and taste of everything about them. From listening to the birds in the trees in the morning to catching fireflies at night, was a constant learning process — and not only for the children.

Contemporary Issues

Mexico City — (NC) — Although priests must preach the Gospel and preside at liturgical functions, they should pay more attention today "to the major aspects of contemporary life," according to Father Jacques Pastoral and Catechetical Institute.

Daily Work is Worship, Jesuit Tells Art Group

Albany — (RNS) — Laymen can help Christianize the world by devoting themselves as wholeheartedly to their secular daily work as they do to their worship of God, a Jesuit told the Catholic Art Association at its national convention here.

Speaking on "The Theology of Work: City of God and City of Man," Father Donald W. Reck, S.J., of St. Mary's (Kans.) College, stated:
"If any work has genuine value towards human culture and civilization, it also has value in the supernatural plan of God for the human race—even though we can only occasionally and to a slight degree glimpse what this supernatural value is."

Father Reck pointed out that to "Christianize" society does not mean "to confuse the profane and the religious."
It means, he said, "to accept man and human society as Christ accepted them, as they actually are, with their religious and profane aspects, and to develop both of these aspects which are in the eyes and plan of God, although not always clearly so for us, interdependent and complementary."

Plan Spaghetti Supper For Geneva Church

Geneva — Officers of the St. Anthony Society are sponsoring a public outdoor spaghetti supper on Sept. 18 for the benefit of St. Francis de Sales Church.
The dinner will be prepared in the kitchens of the school and will be served in a large tent set up on the parish lawn. There will also be a carry-out service.

Verein Units Going To Troy

Delegations from Rochester Branches, Catholic Central Union (Verein) of America and National Catholic Women's Union and Youth branches will attend the state convention in Schenectady, Labor Day weekend.

State President L. Frank Miller of Troy will preside.

Motto for this year's state meeting is taken from Pope Pius VI's January 24th address: "We must seek and promote unity among ourselves, among us Catholics in the Church and in all forms in which human life is expressed and unity with our separate brethren."
Heading the men's group will be President William Roeger and the women's, Mrs. Loretta Schaefer. In delegation also will be Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Gerwal, Charles H. Kura, Miss Helen Kehrig, Bortha Dick, Magdalene Schneider, Mary Fuehrer, Mary Schwind and Leo Saem.

Ordination In Hebrew

Jerusalem — (NC) — For the first time, since the Babylonian exile, an ordination was conducted in the Hebrew language in Israel.
Bishop Hanna Kaldany, vicar general in Israel of Latin-rite Patriarch Alberto Gori, O.F.M., of Jerusalem, ordained Father Eliahu Poteh of the Little Brothers of Charles de Foucauld in a ceremony that employed Hebrew in the admonition, explanations, sung liturgy and proper of the Mass.

Samuels to Head New Scout Program

Howard J. Samuels of Canandaigua, and President of Korde Corporation, will be the chairman of the Finger Lakes Council, Boy Scouts of America Together Program, it was announced today by Donald H. Burgan, Council President.
The Together Program is a coordinated effort to make scouting available to more boys in the Finger Lakes Council.

Donald Burgan stated that at the present time, 4 out of 10 boys of cub and scout age in the Finger Lakes Council are registered in scouting. He stated that he felt this could be improved, but that it was in the area of exploring that the greatest effort should be made, particularly in the area of specialized explorer units.

The program which Samuels will chair searches out potential sponsors for scout units. It is anticipated that at least 25 new units will be organized as a result of this program. This would include from 750 to 1,000 more boys.
