

Irish Gridders In Top Shape

By WHIT JOHNSON

A streamlined squad of 40 candidates, including eight lettermen and several juniors who will be fighting for first string berths, will carry the standard for Aquinas Institute during the coming football wars.

Bob Rosmarino, former Holy Cross football star, who is making his debut as the Aquinas mentor, was all smiles this week. "I'm certainly pleased want them to be able to move. That's why we stressed physical condition of our players so much. Moreover, top physical condition cuts down on injuries."

Stressing more speed and agility, Rosmarino hopes to develop a more open attack than Aquinas has been using in recent years, according to Father Cyril F. Carter, C.S.B., the school's director of athletics.

"The fact that we will be out-weighted by a few of our opponents (St. Joseph's of Cleveland is reported to average 214 pounds) shouldn't hurt us if we can substitute more speed," explained the Irish coach. "We have good straight ahead power but we will also have better lateral movements. This should help us especially on defense."

This is Father Carter's position-by-position view of the Little Irish:

"I like the looks of our guards. . . . The ends might be the best spots in the line. . . . We need more experience at tackle. . . . Quarterback position? We've got four, two with game experience, another up from the jayvees and still another up from the freshmen squad. . . . Halfbacks? No problem here. We have speed and the driving types. The fullbacks are especially good."

The Little Irish will have 13 days of practice before the opening of the regular season when Aquinas meets Mount Pleasant in Schenectady on Friday, Sept. 24. First home game will be Sunday, Oct. 3, when the Irish and the Knights of McQuaid Jesuit High collide.

with the physical condition of my boys," he said as he noted how well his charges held up in the grueling five hour workouts.

"I would say that 99 percent of these boys have followed the instructions we sent out early in the summer." Several had dropped excess weight over the summer recess.

"We want our players to be strong," he said, but we also

Most Reverend
Fulton J. Sheen

Two lawyers, representing one of the best-known figures in the theatrical world, came to our office. They stated that their client wanted to give a large sum of money to help the poor. They were instructed not to give the sums to any organization which would invest them or use them to construct large buildings. Furthermore, the entire sum had to be spent within a year outside the United States and wholly on the destitute, the sick and the socially disinherited. The magnificent gift of this television personality was given to the Holy Father's Society for the Propagation of the Faith because the lawyers agreed that it fulfilled all of these conditions. It already has been forwarded to the Holy Father to be distributed this year by his Commission fulfilling the order that it be given to those who have nothing.

One never knows what gets on deep in the heart of another human being. That is why it takes a God to judge us. How rarely does one find that those who live in comfort may have uncomfortable hearts—stirred by the finger of God so that, if not through love of Him, at least out of uneasiness, they cast themselves upon His Sacred Heart. How often, too the Holy Spirit Who, as the wind bloweth where it will, leaves this gentle dew inside souls to make them mindful of the poor. We are living in a new age where helliness will be inseparable from the service of impoverished humanity. The worst of all divorces is to separate the love of God from the love of neighbor. He who professes to love God and not the poor, does not love God, Who became poor for our sakes that we might become rich. But they, who love the poor because they want to make up for the failings, will surely find God.

May the Holy Spirit inspire souls who read this column to make up for their sins by sacrifice. May they complement their love of God by love of the destitute and implement the sacrifice of the Mass by the sacrifice of their comfort, even a little. Christ will reign more completely in their hearts and give them inner peace because they spent something out of love for Him who spent Himself even unto death for love of them.

GOD LOVE YOU to the Cardwell family for $10
"In thanksgiving for a wonderful and safe family vacation, we are sending you our last traveler's check for the poor." . . . to Mr. J. B. for $50 "In appreciation for a good harvest." . . . to a friend for $100 "I was going to get a new winter coat this year. Since I do not really need one, I feel so much more at peace in making this offering."

So many who cannot make large gifts add to their small sacrifices the prayers which are so precious in the sight of God. Missionaries, who are in the field working in your name, need your daily prayers. The different colored decades of the Worldmission Rosary remind you to pray for the Missions in every part of the world: For your rosary, blessed by Bishop Sheen, send your offering of $2 to The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001.

Cut out this column, pin your sacrifices to it and mail it to Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001; or to your Diocesan Director, Rev. John F. Daily, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, New York 14604.
