9 Priests Named Area Directors

Appointment of nine priests is supervised by this relief and rehabilitation agency of the Catholic bishops of the United States.

Those appointed were Father Emmett Halloran, Monroe County; Father Chester M. Kloczek, Cayuga County; Father William F. McCall, Chemung and Schuylers Counties; Father Timothy Weller, Corning area; Father Charles Langworthy, Livingston County; Father Raymond Ringwood, Ontario, Seneca and Yates Counties; Father John L. Coonan, Steuben County; Father William J. Graf, Thompson and Otsego Counties and Father John L. O'Connor, Wayne County.

These directors, who serve also as deanery moderators of the Rochester Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, which Bishop Kearney has entrusted with promoting the clothing drive, will supervise the campaign in their localities.

Last year, 139 parishes contributed a record total of 565,580 pounds of usable clothing which helped swell the nationwide total to more than 18 million pounds of clothing, shoes, blankets and other materials.

Clothing collected by each parish is shipped directly to the Brooklyn warehouse of Catholic Relief Services—N.C.W.C. where it is baled for shipment abroad. The distribution overseas in more than 60 countries

There is a beautifully unique New prayerbook that every Catholic can use intimately each day and cherish a lifetime. This spiritual bouquet surely makes an inspired gift to someone of whom you are very fond!

ETHIOPIA: A CHAPEL BURNS

THE HOLY FATHER'S MISSION AID TO THE ORIENTAL CHURCH

The most important event of the year for the 200 Catholics of the tiny village of Ugunmu, north Ethiopia, is the visit of their Bishop. When the old catechist announces the coming of Archbishop Ararat Marlam Yemmu, the village stirs with excitement. The annual visit, when the children receive their First Holy Communion and Confirmation, is a time for feasting and rejoicing. Some of the villagers go to repair the road—the Bishop's Land Rover is the only auto that ever goes to Ugunmu. Others set to repairing the chapel, re-tiling its roof. This crude church, without walls, is where a missionary comes 25 miles by mule each week to celebrate Mass. It also shelters the evening catechism classes that prepare the children so well to receive the Sacraments . . . This year, at the catechist was putting the final text to the First Communion class, a cry went up: "The chapel is on fire!" From the fields, from the road gang, all rushed to the chapel but could do nothing; in a few minutes it was a heap of ashes. The people of Ugunmu sadly received their Bishop without a chapel. . . . But they pledged to rebuild it again, with their own hands! Won't you please help these determined souls? A new chapel built of brick and roofed with tin, to resist fire, will cost only $2,350—an unheard-of sum in Ugunmu. An additional $950 would provide a simple center, allowing the continuation of catechism classes. Why not share your blessings with the people of Ugunmu? Your gift ($100, $75, $50, $25, $20, $15, $10, $5) is needed and will be most welcome.

For all His blessings during the past year, thank God, Thanksgiving Day. Think of hungry families overseas when you prepare your turkey. Why not, in thanksgiving, feed a Palestine Refugee Family for a month? It costs only $10. As a token of our thanks, we'll send you an Olive Wood Rosary from the Holy Land.

BRUSHING UP on medical techniques is part of the Nurses Refresher Course. Here, Sister Marie Gregory demonstrates intra-venous injection on patient William Berry, while refresher trainees Mrs. Margaret Sample, left, and Mrs. Jean York assist. Mr. Berry was willing to "model" as long as it was just make-believe.

FILLING A HYPNO in the Medi-Prep unit is Mrs. Margaret Smith, head nurse, as refresher student Mrs. Eusebia Messinger notes the procedure.

Refresher Course Eases Nurses Return To Action

The many "new" nurses at St. Ann's Home these days are a contingent of women taking a Refresher Course there, as they prepare to return to active nursing duty. 25 nurses representing eleven different schools of nursing are winding up a four-week session at the Portland Avenue Home.

The Nursing Service Department of St. Ann's has conducted this part of the course, aimed at helping inactive registered nurses "re-tool" for active duty once more. The course is sponsored by the Rochester Regional Hospital Council and six Rochester hospitals.

When the "refreshers" finish this week at St. Ann's, they will move on for two more weeks of training, at the hospital of their choice, in the specialty they wish to pursue.

"Many of these nurses had some misgivings about adjusting to present day techniques," commented Sister Karen, Director of Nursing at St. Ann's. But they found that the gradual process used in the program had made their return to the familiar hospital atmosphere easy she noted.

"These nurses, returning to hospital work, are meeting a great need," stated Mrs. Dorothea O'Brien, who coordinated the refresher program at St. Ann's. She cited recent news stories that indicate a estimated shortage of 200 to 300 registered nurses in the Rochester area. A second Refresher Course will start on Nov. 15 at St. Ann's Home. It will run 3 days a week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily, for a total of six weeks. Prospective enrollees are asked to call FI 2-1700 for an application form.

Special UN Tour

Four St. Agnes High students and three Mercy High students travelled to New York City this week to view the United Nations Organization in action. Patricia Woods, St. Agnes representative for the Rochester Association of the United Nations, and three classmates, Patricia Ivanushko, Nancy Bachoffer and Paula Connelly, represented their school. From Mercy High, went Judy Plante, Michele Cote and Tish Denham.

At Library Meet

Sister Mary Stephen, librarian of St. Agnes High School, attended the New York Library Association Conference in Buffalo last week.

With the theme "Toward Leadership in Librarianship," the program offered many series on latest authors and audio-visual materials, lectures and panels. Among the speakers was Lieutenant Governor Malcolm Wilson who spoke on "Libraries and Your State Government"; and Robert Vosper, President of the American Library Association.

A Date with Dad

Singing "My Heart Belongs to Daddy," St. Agnes High School girls will step out for a date with Dad tomorrow evening, Nov. 6.

Sponsored by the SAH Student Council, the annual Father-Daughter Dinner-Dance begins at 6:30, in the cafeteria. A song fest led by Rev. Walter Cushing, chaplain of St. Agnes, will follow. Many fathers will also be awarded special prizes for various "achievements" — having the oldest daughter, the youngest daughter, the most daughters at St. Agnes, and the most daughters who have graduated from St. Agnes.

Later, fathers will escort their dates to the gym transformed for the occasion into a ballroom. Recorded music will be provided for the dance, and mementos in the form of photographs will also be available. Still later, entertainment by the Folkingers, songs by Father Cushing, and previews of the show "Brigade"

AOH Mass For Deceased

Members of the Ancient Order of Hibernians and their Ladies Auxiliary will attend their Annual Memorial Mass for deceased members of their order, Sunday, Nov. 7 at 9 a.m.

The Mass will be celebrated by Father George Wood, county chaplain at Mother of Sorrows Church, Mt. Read Blvd. and Latta Road. All members, their families and friends are invited.

GOD LOVE YOU

Most Reverend

Fulton J. Sheen

Nothing prompts a Catholic to snipe in Oswald-fashion at the Church as does a bad conscience. It is not a love of the Crucified that prompts him to sell the Lord but an unrequited sense of guilt. Believe me, after four years at the Council, I have come to the conclusion that never before in the history of the Church have there been so many "dry martyrs" in her Councils as there are today. The "wet martyrs" shed their blood and died quickly. The "dry martyrs" rotted in prisons and concentration camps, keeping their blood dry but dying a living death. One bishop used to put a raisin in a glass with a few drops of water, allowed it to ferment and then used this to celebrate Mass. And he did all this while undergoing torture in a Siberian prison. The Berans, the Sepers, the Slipys, the Quilans, the Camaras—hundreds and hundreds of them—they are the crucifixes at the Council to whom we look as to a 20th Century Christ.

We have a Paul at the top—a Paul like the one of Tarxus who "bears the burden of all the churches on his shoulders." We have missionaries, saints, poverty-embracing bishops—bishops who have left good dioceses in Italy to go to the swamps in Brazil. There are more shepherds here than administrators. Maybe it would be a good thing if we had a "Diocese Exchange" in which we bartered dioceses for a few years, sending the affluent bishops to our comfortable dioceses. One bishop in the Council who has pleaded to me for help lived in a tent with roaming nomads. To win them to the faith, he fenced off a yard for the children whom he taught. The first day, lions killed two children. The other day I found a missionary bishop without a watch. I offered him mine. He refused saying that a wrist watch always got caught in his mule's saddle. We get ours caught in Buicks and Cadillacs.

Because duty calls me to the Council, forget not the cause for which I plead. I do not beg for one religious society of which there are 1,294 in the Church. I beg for the Holy Father who helps all of those that serve the Missions. You might even consider an annuity or giving your money at death in a will to the Holy Father. Remember too, that the Holy Father's Society for the Propagation of the Faith makes no investments of your alms and that it is given to the poor of the world within one year. If you have faith, you will love this kind of charity. God love you!

GOD LOVE YOU to M.G.S. for $10 "If I had gone to New York to see the Pope it would have cost me at least this much. We watched everything on T.V. and are sending the Holy Father our train fare." . . . to AD, for $100 "We want to share my parents' estate with the poor."

Cut out this column, pin your sacrifice to it and mail it to Most Rev. Fulton J. Sheen, National Director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 346 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001; or to your Diocesan Director, Rev. John F. Duffy, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, New York 14604.

Slate 'Hope' Story

Miss Claire O'Neill, head of Nursing Service at the U of R, will address the St. Agnes High School Mothers' Club when they meet on Monday evening, Nov. 8, at 8 p.m. Miss O'Neill will discuss her experiences as a member of "The Good Ship Hope," a hospital ship which sails yearly with selected medical personnel from the United States for a year's service to one of the technologically backward areas of the world.

Mission Bazaar

A new bazaar, the parcel post, will contain items from all over the United States when Mercy High School's Mission Days roll along on Nov. 12-13 to the theme of "The Sound of Missions."

Bazaar time will be 2-5 p.m. Friday afternoon and 7-11 p.m. on both evenings, states Patti Haidt, president of Mercy's mission unit.

The Mission Show, "Peter Pan," will start at 7:30 p.m. Friday and Saturday and at 3:30 p.m. on Sunday in Mercy's auditorium.

Prayers for the success of Mission Day will be offered by the student body at a Mass on Nov. 9. The mission button this year will feature a picture of the four Mercy missionary Sisters bound for Chile.

Major committee workers include mission officers Camille Sheehan, Alice Neidert and Mary Lou Wenthe; Donna Blaney, stamp drive chairman; and Marianne Streff, special fund drive organizer. Sister Mary Judith is the mission moderator.

Athletic Apostles

On Oct. 29, several girls from the Academy of the Sacred Heart in Rochester left for a weekend of workshops for Christian Leadership and an inter-school field hockey game. The first stop was the Sacred Heart Albany school, Kenwood, where they stayed for the night.

On Saturday morning, along with the Albany girls, the Rochester Academy proceeded to the Sacred Heart school in Greenwich, Connecticut where a round-robin hockey game was played between students of Sacred Heart schools from New York City, Michigan, Connecticut and Rochester.

That evening they all left for the Sacred Heart school in Noroton, Connecticut for a Workshop for Christian Leadership. After a busy but successful weekend, they returned home Monday, Nov. 1.

At Math Workshop

Eleven seniors will represent Notre Dame at the mathematics lecture day at Nazareth College tomorrow. The five boys and six girls chosen are: Barbara Anderson, Barbara Dunlap, Wil-

MOTHER MARY FLORENCE, Mercy High principal, recently served as slide commentator at a kickoff assembly for Mission Day (November 12-13). Here she shows one of the slides of the Mercy Sister's mission site in Chile to Patti Haidt, president of Mercy's mission unit; Chris Kramer, frosh mission captain; and Camille Sheehan, mission unit vice president.
