The Aquinas debaters won first place at the Eastridge Invitational Debate Tournament, held at Eastridge High School last weekend.

Exiled Hungarian Leader To Speak at Fisher Mar. 7

Ferenc Nagy, postwar prime minister of Hungary, who was forced from office by the communists in 1947 and has been living in exile in the United States since then, will speak at St. John Fisher College Monday, March 7, at 8:15 p.m. in St. Basil Hall auditorium. Admission is free.

Founder of the Independent Smallholders' Party of Hungary and a prewar member of the Hungarian Parliament, Nagy was jailed by the Nazis for his political beliefs. After the Axis defeat, his Smallholders' Party won a resounding victory in the first and only free elections held in Hungary since the start of World War II. Nagy himself was chosen President of the new Assembly of Hungary's

Parliament, and later prime minister. His attempt to govern in coalition with the communists was thwarted by the small Communist minority, who staged a well-planned coup d'etat while Nagy was visiting in Switzerland, forcing him to resign from office and to remain outside of his native land in exchange for the return of his young son, who had been seized as a hostage.

"In 19 months," says Nagy, "I saw my country conquered from within by a small Communist minority led by seven men especially trained and directed in this task by the Soviet Union. I am living proof that you cannot compromise with communism."

Since his exile Nagy has traveled extensively throughout the world. He has lectured at many colleges and universities and is the author of Struggle Behind the Iron Curtain. With his wife and five children he now resides in Herndon, Virginia.
