don't get," said Sister Lee, who 1400 elementary school chil. stand whry." Social Research Bureau of Cath olic University and who has had extensive experience working to talk about them,

The nun, a member of the Sisters of Notre Dame de Nameur, cites studies that show there is no appreciable intellectual difference among infants of yardous social and social contours groups up to the age of 15 to 18 months, but that at the age of 3 years there is: a-marked

This difference is due, she says, to the fact that in the homes of underprivileged children there is very little "verbil stimulation" in the form of meallime conversation, the ir parents seldom talk with them during the course of the day and, if they do, "the parents do not offer the best models for language learning."

The result, declares Sister Leo, is that these chaldren are later put at a great disadvant age intellectually, and that much time and money must therefore be spent on them in remedial work

"At one point in his develop. ment a child babbles, at another point he grasps for objects, at another point he can identify objects and put words to therm Sister Leo said. "If a child passes through this talking stage without developing it, it is extremely difficult to go back and take him through it a gain.

"The "Head Start" people are saying that age five is too fate to begin training an underprivileged child-that you have to go back to age thre We're saying THREE is too late."
