FILMS ABOUT TOWN

A MENTION OF MOTION PICTURES OF MORE THAN ROUTINE INTEREST

A Patch of Blue. "The basic plot of this picture comes straight out of the radio serials of the past. But the plot is not what makes this a film worth anyone's time. It has two very authentic characterizations that rise well above the melodramatic contrivances of the story. Elizabeth Hartman does extraordinary things with the role of the blind girl who is victimized by her mother. She is sweetness and pathos and her surprise at anyone being interested in her tugs at the heart. Sidney Potier is the stranger-who-befriends her and with whom she inevitably falls in love. He is especially good in this role which must come close to the actual feelings and position of the middle-class Negro in American society today."—Catholic Film Newsletter. (Cinema Theatre—Clinton Ave. S. at Goodman, weekdays 7:20, 9:25, Sat. and Sun. 1:45, 3:40, 5:35, 7:40, 9:50)

Bambi. "Based on the now classic Felix Salten novel, this life story of a deer and his many forest friends is considered by many Disney's greatest achievement in the cartoon medium. Its technical perfection is matched only by its emotional content and the life cycle of every being—birth, growth, romance, anguish, triumph—are all reflected through the endearing Disney forest creatures as they live out one of the great love stories of all time. (Lyell Theatre, Lyell at Mt. Read Blvd. Mon.-Fri. 7, 9; Sat. and Sun. 1, 3, 5, 7, 9)

Harper. "As a gum-chewing gumshoe named Harper, Paul Newman is hellbent for Bogart country, that raw, rich 'Big Sleep' milieu; and this Warner Brothers revival of a grand old tradition gets him there in style. Based on Ross Macdonald's "The Moving Target," and accelerated at a slick '60s pace by Director Jack Smight, Harper gives Newman his feistiest role since HUD."—Time

Promise Her Anything. "Shortly after splashing headlines last year as off screen lovers in an unsavory divorce action Leslie Caron and Warren Beatty pooled their talents in a sex farce. Surprisingly enough it is an amiable, entertaining fiction and nowhere near so scandalous as life itself."—Time Magazine
