

12 COURIER-JOURNAL Friday, June 10, 1966

Drive In Service
BEER - ALE - SOFT DRINKS
FITZGERALD • SIMON PURE
PITTSFORD BEVERAGE'S BRANCH
Formerly Art Hack Beverages
SHELFORD RD. at EMPIRE BLVD.
Open Tues. Thru Sat. 9 a.m. To 6 p.m. • Closed Mon.

BEAUTIFUL AND BREATHTAKING SIGHT
Watching The Roll Of Lake Ontario
The Beauty Of The Gardens And Bubbling Fountains While Dining
At The
CRESCENT BEACH HOTEL
Where Delicious Food Is Served
At Sensible Prices For Lunch,
Dinner, Banquets And Parties.
Music Nately In The Vineyard Lounge
By The Four Gales And Dancing
Fri. & Sat. Nites To Kenny Unwins
Fine Band.
Your Hosts—"THE BARRYS" Joe & Gloria

new 4 1/2% rate
Overtime Overtime Overtime Overtime
money you save RIGHT NOW is earning 4 1/2% from the first.
Columbia has overtime EVERY month for you because...
Columbia cares
COLUMBIA BANKING SAVINGS & LOAN ASSOCIATION

The inside story:
All we changed
were the bottles.

How come? To match what goes inside.
Still your favorite Hiram Walker's Gin made with imported botanicals.
Still your favorite Vodka distilled an extra step for extra dryness.

GIN $420 4 1/2 qt. $262 pt. VODKA $399 4 1/2 qt. $259 pt.

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT INN CALL BANQUET 265-1000

1798 HOUSE
at the DOWNINGTOWN INN, DOWNINGTOWN, PENNA.

What's New... In The Parishes

ST. FRANCIS XAVIER, Rochester. Sacred Heart Women's Club monthly meeting Monday, June 13 at 8 p.m. in parish center. Election of officers. Installation dinner Wednesday, June 15.

MOST PRECIOUS BLOOD, Rochester. Parents Club meeting Tuesday, June 14 at 8 p.m. in school auditorium. Mothers of fourth graders, hostesses.

ST. JOSAPHAT, Irondequoit. Holy Name Society Communion Sunday, June 12 at 9 a.m. Mass followed by breakfast in cafeteria. School registration at convent evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Mothers Circle meeting Sunday, June 12 at 3 p.m. in Audio-Visual Room. Men's closed retreat Aug. 19 to 21 at Notre Dame Retreat House. June 12 guest speaker: Father Richard Moran, C.S.S.R., Sunday, June 12 at 8:30 and 12 noon Masses. Meeting of past retreatants at 2:30 p.m. in school cafeteria.

OUR LADY OF MT. CARMEL, Rochester. Rummage sale Friday, June 10 from 6 to 9 p.m. and Saturday, June 11 from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Proceeds to purchase station wagon for Sisters.

ST. PATRICK, Rochester. Rosary and Altar Society installation of officers was held June 8 at Maplewood Inn. New slate: Miss Joseph Fedele, president; Miss Ann DiLella, vice president; Mrs. Dora A. Dillio, secretary; Mrs. Carole Buchovitch, treasurer.

HOLY APOSTLES, Rochester. Mothers Club installation dinner Monday, June 20 at 6 p.m. in the school hall. Reservations by June 15. Mrs. Martin LoBiondo, CL 4-6410; Mrs. Michael Rosso Jr., CL 4-0833. New officers: Mrs. John F. Huber, president; Mrs. Ernest Gaudilo, vice president; Mrs. Fessio, secretary; Mrs. Joseph Danello, treasurer.

ST. PIUS X, Rochester. Housewarming shower for Sisters Sunday, June 12 from 9 to 9 p.m. Rosary Guild members will conduct guided tours through convent. Refreshments in parish center. Information and gift suggestions from Mrs. Ronald Miller, FA 8-7963; Mrs. Richard Crane, ID 6-5192.

OUR LADY OF PERPETUAL HELP, Rochester. Annual parish festival Friday and Saturday, June 17, 18. Proceeds for new school. Co-chairmen: Charles Bleler, Richard Boesel, Louis Rebnan, Les Buckner and Mrs. Henry Kellar. Games and refreshments.

OUR LADY OF MERCY, Rochester. Holy Name Society Communion Sunday, June 12 at 8:30 a.m. Mass Dinner meeting in parish center on Monday, June 13 at 7 p.m. Special hour at 8:15. Spaghetti dinner served under direction of Jim Viavattene. Business meeting and installation of new officers: Bob Solan, president; John Tango, vice president; Don Kuhn, secretary; Bill Sullivan, treasurer.

ST. LOUIS, Elmsford, St. Louis. Guild Mass, procession, and banquet was held on Wednesday of last week. New officers: Mrs. William Wilnot, president; Mrs. Walter Shea, 1st vice president; Mrs. Thomas Decker, 2nd vice president; Mrs. John Koch, 3rd vice president; Mrs. Alex. Bochetto, treasurer; Mrs. Arthur Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Dominic Parrone, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas Carney, spiritual advisor; Mrs. Sherman Skuse, publicity chairman.

ST. BERNARD, Scipio Center. Fourth Annual Father's Day Festival and chicken barbecue sponsored by Holy Name Society, on Church Grounds, Sunday, June 19. Serving continuously from noon to 5 p.m. Adults tickets, $1.75; children, 75 cents. Games and entertainment. J. Clifford Beaudin, general chairman with Father John Morgan, pastor, honorary chairman. Aiding are: Robert L. Driscoll, grounds chairman; John N. Sullivan, public relations; Howard W. Lacy, games and entertainment; Jack L. Powers, finance; Francis J. McGarry, advertising.

ST. FELIX, Clifton Springs. Holy Name Society Father and Son Breakfast Sunday, June 12. Mass at 7:30 a.m. Breakfast at Clifton Springs Country Club. Speaker: Herbert W. White of St. John Fisher College. Reservations, Frank Goodrow or Bill Peisher. Lawn Festival at St. Felix Hall Friday, June 10 from 7 to 9:30 p.m. Cake, strawberries and ice cream, 35 cents. Chairmen, Mrs. Claude Goodman, Mrs. E. Morphy, Miss Sara Murnighan.

ST. ANDREW'S, Rochester. Annual Fathers and Sons breakfast, sponsored by the Holy Name Society, will take place this Sunday, June 12 after the 8:30 Mass. Luke Easter of the Rochester Red Wings will speak. Guest of honor will be J. Mandell Grammer, school basketball team to be feted. Tickets available at the rectory office.

ST. THOMAS THE APOSTLE, Rochester. Artistic missioner Father Bernard Brown, O.M.I., will show color films of his Colville Lake, N.W.T., mission and narrate them on Monday, June 13 at 8 p.m. in the parish hall.

HOLY SPIRIT, Penfield. Rosary Guild meeting Tuesday, June 14 at 8 p.m. at St. Rita's Barn. Election and installation of officers. Salad buffet. Chairmen: Mrs. Albert Bantelman and Mrs. Henry Vespoli.

Elmira CDA Names Slate

At a recent special meeting of Elmira's Court St. Rita, Catholic Daughters of America, officers for the coming term were elected.

Named were: Father William Burns, chaplain; Mrs. Clarence Eastlings, regent; Mrs. Harry Kahler, vice regent; Mrs. Clayton Boyce, prophetess; Mrs. Paul Scanlin, historian; Mrs. Piero Masia, lecturer; Mrs. Joseph Gubio, treasurer; Mrs. James Brown, monitor; Mrs. Roy Carter, financial secretary; Mrs. Stella Makowski, sentinel and Miss Clara Rose Stark, organist.

Summer Festival At St. Anthony's

The annual summer festival sponsored by St. Anthony's parish, Elmira will be held on the church grounds Saturday and Sunday June 11 and 12.

A special program for children will be held on Saturday afternoon from 3 until 5. The event will be held each evening starting at 7 o'clock.

"And so, over and over again, I had the experience of feeling that I had to give myself to

Almost memorable event... your Wedding Reception

ALL THE DETAILS HANDLED WITH DELICATE CARE ON A WONDERFUL ONE

- magnificent air-conditioned banquet rooms
- complete selection of full-course dinners
- orchestra for dancing pleasure
- elaborately tiered wedding cake
- traditional wedding punch
- lavish floral arrangements
- keepsake photograph album
- special suite for bridal party after ceremony
- overnight suite for bride and groom
- facilities for any size party
- personal maid

COMPLETE BEVERAGE SERVICE
DANCE FACILITIES

FOR INFORMATION ABOUT INN CALL BANQUET 265-1000

1798 HOUSE
at the DOWNINGTOWN INN, DOWNINGTOWN, PENNA.

PARTICIPANTS in a "Living Room Dialogue" held taking place in the Diocese of Rochester these days, in a Montclair, N.J. home. Similar gatherings are

'Living Room Dialogue' Tuning In On A Session

Montclair, N.J.—One product of the present ecumenical era is "Living Room Dialogues," in which lay people from various Christian denominations get together in private homes and talk with each other, to better understand what separates them and what should unite them.

Here are excerpts from one such dialogue, which centered on the topic, "Our Common Christian Heritage," and which followed a discussion guideline suggested in the handbook, "Living Room Dialogues," published by the Paulist Press and the National Council of Churches.

Taking part in the dialogue session—one of hundreds that take place each month throughout the country—were a 34-year-old bank auditor and his wife, both Catholic; a hosier salesman who is an elder in the Presbyterian Church; a Presbyterian minister's wife; a 49-year-old accountant, who is Catholic, and his wife, an Episcopalian; a 56-year-old college sociology professor and a Presbyterian Church elder; a 60-year-old dental technician, a Catholic; a 40-year-old stock broker, a Catholic; a woman librarian, a Congregationalist; and a sixth-grade teacher, a woman Methodist who led the discussion at this session.

The discussion early turned to Christian commitment, and Charles McGuire, the stock broker, spoke:

"There are different kinds of Catholics, you know. I was one of each of those kinds. I mean, there's the guy who makes friends with the priest or the one who just goes to Mass on Sundays, all kinds. It wasn't until a few years ago that I really made a commitment. There is such a thing as being for Christ or against him, and I think something has to happen in your life to point out to you: 'Look, are you really for Him or against Him?' And I think that once this kind of happens to you, you begin to be the same person in the home as you are in the church, and also at your work, rather than being three or four different people. Maybe this is the Holy Spirit. If you give Him a chance, maybe He does this. I don't know."

The leader, Mrs. Gertrude Simpford, a Methodist, talked about her childhood, of growing up, of a weakening of faith:

"I remember, as a girl, we used to have what they call revival meetings. And although I would go down to the altar and give myself up to Christ, and accept Him the next time we had a revival meeting, I'd begin to feel guilty again and feel that I had to go down again.

"And so, over and over again, I had the experience of feeling that I had to give myself to God, give myself to Jesus, accept Him as a Savior. But I think I was maturing all the time, and it meant more to me as I got older and older. During college life—or, if we don't go to college, right after we get out of high school—we begin to doubt what we have been taught to believe. And we have to get back to the place where we are supposed to trust God again. I don't know if others of you have had that same experience or not."

The others murmured agreement ("I think it's quite universal," said one) and soon the conversation was around to the barriers that each of the denominations have put up against unity.

Dr. Wilbur Appar, the sociology professor and Presbyterian elder took all the denominations to task:

"Have we in the past—as Methodists, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Old Catholics, Eastern Orthodox, you name it—have we each developed institutional procedures which taught our young people that you belong to the right group, and you're better than the other?"

"Now that's a very unchristian (a word the sociologist likes to throw around) way of stating it. You have stated your own preference twice. You haven't given that other fellow a chance.

"There has never been any organization in which there has been complete unity. We had Protestant groups, who splintered off from other Protestant groups, the same as you've had monastic groups splintered off from other monastic groups. Humans never agree on anything completely. If you want to see that richly demonstrated, you want to read American Indian lore, and find out what each Indian tribe called all the others around it. The most flagrant language you could possibly imagine.

"What the ecumenical movement says is: We may be different, but we're level. Maybe we can work together rather than having to castigate each other or set up initiation procedures which will make my group so much my group that I will hate every other group."

Vernon Elmo, the dental technician, a Catholic, came in:

"I think of God up there, patiently waiting for all these people to get together, to stop bickering. When we get up there, we're all going to be one anyway."

"If we can learn it here on earth," the leader interjected, "it'd be much better."

The Congregationalist librarian, Mrs. Donald Curry, of

'Living Room Dialogue' Tuning In On A Session

God, give myself to Jesus, accept Him as a Savior. But I think I was maturing all the time, and it meant more to me as I got older and older. During college life—or, if we don't go to college, right after we get out of high school—we begin to doubt what we have been taught to believe. And we have to get back to the place where we are supposed to trust God again. I don't know if others of you have had that same experience or not."

The others murmured agreement ("I think it's quite universal," said one) and soon the conversation was around to the barriers that each of the denominations have put up against unity.

Dr. Wilbur Appar, the sociology professor and Presbyterian elder took all the denominations to task:

"Have we in the past—as Methodists, Presbyterians, Roman Catholics, Old Catholics, Eastern Orthodox, you name it—have we each developed institutional procedures which taught our young people that you belong to the right group, and you're better than the other?"

"Now that's a very unchristian (a word the sociologist likes to throw around) way of stating it. You have stated your own preference twice. You haven't given that other fellow a chance.

"There has never been any organization in which there has been complete unity. We had Protestant groups, who splintered off from other Protestant groups, the same as you've had monastic groups splintered off from other monastic groups. Humans never agree on anything completely. If you want to see that richly demonstrated, you want to read American Indian lore, and find out what each Indian tribe called all the others around it. The most flagrant language you could possibly imagine.

"What the ecumenical movement says is: We may be different, but we're level. Maybe we can work together rather than having to castigate each other or set up initiation procedures which will make my group so much my group that I will hate every other group."

Vernon Elmo, the dental technician, a Catholic, came in:

"I think of God up there, patiently waiting for all these people to get together, to stop bickering. When we get up there, we're all going to be one anyway."

"If we can learn it here on earth," the leader interjected, "it'd be much better."

The Congregationalist librarian, Mrs. Donald Curry, of not morally offensive in themselves, these films require caution and some interpretation and false conclusion.

CLASS A, Section 1 — Unobjectionable for General Patronage

CLASS A, Section 2 — Unobjectionable for Adults and Adolescents

CLASS B — Unobjectionable in part for all

CLASS C — Continued

CLASS D — Continued

CLASS E — Continued

Romney's A Mission
Detroit — (RNS) George Romney's sojourn in July for two Mormon services as a layman in France.

AT ALL CRITIC STORES
HILLS BROS.
1# Tin
2# Tin
HERSHEY'S
CHOCOLATE
16 oz. tin 2
PREMIUM
12 oz. tin

KITTY SNICK CAT FOOD
15 oz. tin 2
FRENCH PURE VAN
1 oz. bottle

STAR KIL CHUNK T
6 1/2 oz. tin 3
REYNOLDS
25 ft. Reg. Rol

MUELLER ELBO MACA
1# pkg. 2
One of Roche
WE
• BA
• CL
• CI

Dinner
The Fin
For Reservations
FA 8-4160

THIS IS

Ralph

CLASS A, Section 1 — Unobjectionable for General Patronage

CLASS A, Section 2 — Unobjectionable for Adults and Adolescents

CLASS B — Unobjectionable in part for all

CLASS C — Continued

CLASS D — Continued

CLASS E — Continued