Immortal Words of Mooney

'Possible, But Highly Improbable'

Even before the first baseball game, Cardinal Mooney's team looked like a real winner this year.

But when one of the players suggested to Coach Ed Nietopski that they might go all the way undefeated, the good-natured coach chuckled:

"It's possible—but highly improbable."

Last week when a jubilant Cardinal nine trooped into the locker room, having racked up

Myth and Fact
A study by the U.S. Department of Commerce of the rise in the cost of essential commodities and services in this country has destroyed the myth of "The High Cost of Dying." This study demonstrates succinctly that the increment in the cost of funeral service has been modest indeed when compared to the spiraling increase for hospitalization, education, automobiles, and hundreds of other products and services.

MOONEY COACH ED NIETOPSKI

Ken-Harrington, in his first year of pitching, was a pleasant surprise, Nietopski noted, notching 10 wins. (Teammate Jim Butler also had a 10-0 mound mark.)
"We had more speed this year," the Mooney mentor added. He mentioned Don Lenzo, a transfer from Aquinas, as being a big help with his fleet-footed ways.
Defensively, Kevin Dugan was "a magician with his glove" at shortstop, Nietopski stated.
But basically, he felt, Mooney's 23-0 team effort. He quoted with approval, right fielder Ken Kunz, comment after the last game:
"There wasn't a selfish kid on the whole club."
Looking back, it was a very good year for Mooney in the major varsity sports. The football team, coached by Tony Merola had a respectable 4-3 record. The basketball club, also coached by Ed Nietopski, wound up with a fine 17-4 season, going to the finals of the Diocesan basketball tournament before bowing to Aquinas.
The baseball record was the frosting on the cake.
Ed Nietopski, now in his second year at Mooney as director of athletics, is a former pro baseball player. Rochester Red Wings fans will remember him as the shortstop on the 1950 Wings team which won the International League title, under Johnny Keane.
A Buffalo boy, Nietopski played pro ball for 10 years, including summers after he'd gone back to college. He's a graduate of Brockport's State University, '57, and went from there to coach Brockport Central High for 8 years.
As for next year in Mooney baseball — Nietopski faces a complete rebuilding job. Only centerfielder Ace Hayes will be back from this year's team.
"But the Jayvees looked good," he smiled cheerfully, "and maybe we'll come up with a winner."
You feel like saying, tongue in cheek:
"Possible, but highly improbable!"
