Arab King Thanks Pope

Amman, Jordan — (NC) — King Hussein of Jordan is grateful to Americans who assist Palestinian refugees through the Pontifical Mission for Palestine.

In a palace interview, the King expressed his gratitude for the self-help aid through Msgr. John G. Nolan of New York, president of Pope Paul VI's relief organization for Arab refugees.

"We thank you for all the contributions you are making — big and small — toward this section of the population now in Jordan," he told Msgr. Nolan, who also serves as national secretary of the Catholic Near East Welfare Association.

GOD LOVE YOU
 Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen

I know two priests who have caught the spirit of our times. One, a pastor takes no meals in his rectory but dines in nearby restaurants. Here he meets a few of his parishioners but comes into contact with those who are empty of faith but full of problems. They visit him at table, unburden their heart and have their first encounter with a shepherd among lost sheep. The other priest goes to the railroad station every night where he meets the lonely, the lost, the homeless and those who are just "waiting." Some are lost through their own fault, others through "someone else's fault," and still others through the harsh vicissitudes of life. There he brings the Church to the un-church'd; he has become the ambassador of Christ to these souls.

This is Mission in a non-Mission land, the techniques of Africa and Asia put into use on Broadway and Main Street. In our new age, instead of waiting for others to come to us, we must go to them; modern souls do not knock at our rectory doors. Lost sheep do not wander back into the shepherd, they fall among wolves. So often we regard the aimless souls outside the Church as having fixed characters and trade labels, like shiftless, "not us," neurotics, bigots; instead of seeing them as those whom Christ can make new creatures. We make being a Catholic seem so easy: attend Mass on Sunday, say a few prayers, be moral and fill up the envelope. These two priests and our missionaries preach a different Gospel—the two-edged sword which cleaves the Christian away from the idols of the tribe and the mob. They see—and this is the secret of Christian life—Mission as Passion: the influencing of others as inseparable from union with the Cross. Our Lord united both when He said that He came (Mission) to give His life as a ransom for many (Passion). Our missionaries carry about with them the "marks of the Passion of Christ." Why do so many of them average over a hundred converts a year, if it be not that for them the Gospel is not the "honey" but the "salt of the earth"?

May you laity who are saintly and you priests who are Christlike help the rest of us mortals to lift our Church from administration to shepherding! May you point the way by your sacrifices the imitating of the missionaries so that we may see that God is dwelling with men for their saving—where they work, where they grope, where they fall! The Church is not a Sunday gathering of faithful, but a barracks where the Commander in Chief sends us but to do the Lord's saving work. May we not be blind to the Presence of God in the world of hunger and want. And may we not be blind either to the presence of the Tempter in the Church—tempting us to take short cuts away from the Cross.

If we can keep the missionary spirit alive in our Church, we can make ourselves more worthy of the grace given to us. Every day pray for sinners, pray for the world, deny yourself for the hungry, self-discipline yourself for the erring, and see that you give not your aims to those who have but rather to those who have not. Every cent you give to The Society for the Propagation of the Faith the Holy Father distributes to the poor within 12 months. God Love You!

Sheen, National Director of The Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 366 Fifth Avenue, New York, New York 10001, or to your Diocesan Director, Rt. Rev. Msgr. John E.
