Priests' Guild Termed Healthy

New York — (RNS) — America, the national Catholic weekly, believes that the Association of Chicago Priests is "a healthy and onward-going movement" which undoubtedly will affect the thinking of the U.S. bishops at their annual meeting.

This appraisal was presented in the lead editorial of America's Nov. 5 issue.

Stressing that the Chicago association will find imitators around the country, the magazine said: "Its great strength is that it brings priests into a closer and more cooperative relationship with their bishops than ever before, and that it forms new fraternal bonds among priests themselves."

"It was unthinkable that such a movement would not take place if we were to translate the letter and spirit of Vatican II into the everyday life of our American dioceses. This is what the originators of the Chicago association had in mind. Theirs is a program that will inevitably prevail. Moreover, the Chicago initiative is an illuminating grace that will undoubtedly affect the thinking and the decision of the American hierarchy as they now form themselves into a more dynamic union at their Washington meeting."

"The decisions taken at that meeting will doubtless reveal how creatively we may expect our bishops to cope with these and other stresses now being felt everywhere within the Church. If the meetings of the bishops results only in an attempt to suppress the problems that now beset us, it will not be a fruitful convention. "Let us hope that the November coming together in Washington, and the fresh leadership it will presumably supply, will bring us out into the open air of adventurous encounter with the Holy Spirit and with the spirit of our times."

POP TOPICS

Another week and still the questions pour in. POP is getting more attention than that Thanksgiving turkey got... and wasn't it a treat to settle back after that sweet meal and relax over a cup of CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE? Have you taken advantage of the money-saving coupon in last week's Courier for CHASE & SANBORN COFFEE? It's a real bonus—you get POP points and save money too! And speaking of coffee, here are a few more of the questions you girls have discussed over that morning coffee and we hope, the answers to them.

Question: Will the list of "POP" Products change from month to month?

Answer: No, all the products listed below will remain on the list for the whole first Game period—that is, from now thru March 1967. However, there may be additions to this list. The blank spaces on the tally sheets provide for these.

Question: Is it absolutely necessary to make a turn-in every month?

Answer: No, but it's recommended. If all labels were turned in at the end of the 6 month period, all our tallying of POP points would have to be done then. As a result, there would be a delay in calculating and sending out the cash awards.

Question: What is a "point" worth in actual cash? How much will we receive for x number of points?

Answer: There is no specific amount allotted for a point. Awards will be made on a percentage basis. At the end of each 6 month period, "POP" advertising income will be divided among the groups registered according to the number of points each accumulates. Every registered group will receive some award.

Is your parish POPPING with "POP" news? Please let us know. We'll give you 200 bonus points for every device used to make POP popular. What are some of these "devices"?

1. A notice in the parish bulletin or in a society's newsletter.
2. A poster in the church, school or headquarters of the group.
3. An original recipe using POP Products submitted by a member and used in the POP Topics Column.
4. Attractively decorated containers for POP labels.
5. A special display of POP Products in a neighborhood store, or other sales promotions by the store.

Of course if your group does something really extraordinary—such as putting on a POP Play—we'll give you a substantial number of bonus points.

But remember—we have no way of knowing what you've done unless you inform us. So please, do send us a copy of your church bulletin, sample facsimile of posters made, or any device used to publicize "POP." Otherwise, you'll miss out on all these valuable bonus points.

To avoid confusion, which in part we have created, please check this week's POP SHOPPING LIST. You'll find what points are awarded for and what to save. We had an error in last week's list for INDEPENDENT GAS & OIL. Also it might be well to point out again that you get points only for PRINCE MACARONI PRODUCTS. There are no points awarded for sauces, cheese, etc. We think you'll like the products when you try them but remember only PRINCE pasta products pay off with points.

'POP' SAUCY SEAFOOD AND NOODLES

1/4 cup BLUE BONNET WHIPPED MARGARINE
1/4 cup flour
1/2 tsp. salt
1/4 tsp. pepper
2 cups milk
1 tbl. sherry
2 cups cooked seafood in large chunks or pieces
8 oz. PRINCE MEDIUM NOODLES, cooked according to package directions.

Melt margarine over low heat. Blend in flour and seasonings. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until mixture is smooth and bubbly. Remove from heat and stir in milk. Bring to a boil, stirring constantly. Boil one minute. Gradually blend half of white sauce into egg yolks; pour mixture into remaining white sauce. Just before serving, stir in sherry and seafood. Pour over hot cooked PRINCE MEDIUM NOODLES. Garnish with parsley and pimiento strips.

Here's a repeat request for that special family recipe using POP PRODUCTS. It must be an original recipe (not previously published). If we use it in the POP TOPICS column, your organization will earn extra bonus points. So let's share those family secrets with all the other POP participants.

Don't forget your POP label turn-ins: At least once a month. The basement of ST. PETER AND PAUL'S School is the place. Entrance off BROWN ST. Ample parking. OPEN every day from 3 to 5 and Saturday from 10 a.m. to Noon.

Let's go out there. Keep things POPPING. The POP cash is waiting. Your efforts are going to tell whether your goal will be realized or not.

'Not Radical Enough' Need: Better Theologians

Philadelphia — (RNS)—One of the greatest needs of the Roman Catholic Church today is for better theologians, according to Father Hans Kueng, famed theologian and ecumenist from Germany.

"The doctrinal congregation, for example, does not have very many competent scholars," he said. "On the other hand, the secretariat for church unity has many competent people."

Father Kueng was referring to the Sacred Congregation of the Doctrine of the Faith, of which Alfredo Cardinal Ottaviani is pre-prefect, and the Vatican Secretariat for Promoting Christian Unity headed by Augustin Cardinal Bea.

Interviewed by Joseph Gagen of the Catholic Star Herald of Camden, N.J., Father Kueng was asked about Cardinal Ottaviani's letter to bishops throughout the world cautioning them of "abuses in the interpretation of the ecumenical council's doctrine... and strange and audacious opinions rising here and there which are more than slightly disturbing the souls of many faithful."

With a smile, Father Kueng replied, "I'm not very sure of this mentality. I think we must obey not the letter of the Council but its spirit and, above all, the spirit of Pope John XXIII. There will be no stop to the reform going on within the Church. Like any other institution, it will need constant renewal."

Was the Church progressing or languishing after the Council, Mr. Gager asked.

The European Church, Father Kueng replied, was bogged down by years of traditionalism.

He saw things moving faster in the United States than in other parts of the world. Pointing out that there will be difficulties, before, during and after the Council, he said:

"The people want clear, concrete decisions. They want decisions on birth control and mixed marriages, and the liturgy. The trouble with many church leaders is that they are not radical enough. They want to give 50-50 decisions but such decisions are not convincing. Why, for instance, don't we translate the whole Mass into English?"

When asked why he dressed in a black suit, a white shirt and a black tie, Father Kueng explained that it was customary for priests at the University of Tuebingen in West Germany, where he is dean of the Catholic theological faculty, to dress in this manner. The purpose is not to appear different from the other members of the faculty. In answer to a question on the formation of the American
