Interment was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery where final blessing at the grave was given by Father James Doyle, assisted by Fathers Teuschel and James Wolfe. Arrangements by August M. Maier Funeral Home.

GOD LOVE YOU
Most Reverend
Fulton J. Sheen

A Presbyterian pastor told a story which illustrates how much the Church must integrate herself into our secular world if it is to be saved. A Tomi Indian of the Mezquital Valley in Mexico was converted. He burned all his books of magic and dedicated himself to preaching the Bible. But he felt that the redemption of souls was inseparable from the redemption of dry land. So along with his preaching, he taught his people how to grow wheat, tomatoes and corn in their valley. His biggest problem was a highly intoxicating drink which the people brewed from a shrub. So he taught them instead to make cloth out of the shrub and eventually built trade schools for dressing, knitting and carpentry. In 30 years, his land tilled, people had become a vigorous and self-reliant community with neat homes, plumbing, electricity and in the midst of the village, a beautiful church.

Maybe what we need in Latin America are not just American priests who will take on a country parish, but rather a team of technicians: hygienists, doctors, nurses, electricians, engineers and a priest. Send them into the slums, first to give the bread for their stomachs, then to talk about the Bread of Life. Our missions must be apart from the total situation of the people whom we serve. If the Communists can combine all liberal groups, leftist movements, off-beat beatniks into a revolutionary movement against society and decency, why cannot the Church mold together her 1,200 religious communities and separate missionary organizations into a single unit to carry on the revolution of Christ in the world? Why does each missionary society have to have its own seminary? Why do we have to have separate offices for begging for this mission and for that mission? Why this separatism while the good Lord prays that we may be one as He and the Father are One?

What a tremendous force the million runs in the world could be, if they were fused into unity! In a recent World War we had an Allied Commander. We have a picture in our office of the National Director talking to Pope John before a tremendous globe of the world. The National Director was suggesting to him that he was the Commander and Chief of all the missionary forces. "Why not unify all of us soldiers in the Mission?" he asked. Pope John answered: "That is what I intend to do." But he died before he could do it. Please God the Church will eventually come around to his vision but until then, at least the Society for the Propagation of the Faith is trying to help every single religious community in the world, every bishop in every missionary area of the world. It is for this reason that the Holy Father said: "It should be helped primarily and that it occupies first place among the mission societies of the Church."

GOD LOVE YOU to an anonymous friend in New Orleans for $2,000. . . . to J.M.H. for $4 "We are the parents of 10 children. Our life is one of continual sacrifice since someone always needs something, but we are all in good health and always have enough to eat." . . . to C.R.E. for $11. "I placed your MISSION magazine on my desk at work and most people could not resist a donation for the poor of the world."

Aquinas State-v
By KEVIN DONOVAN

Aquinas Institute's championship cross-country team its highly successful season gaining state-wide recognition. The Ossining Invitational officially recognized as country's state champion meet.

Aquinas, representing Western New York, finished fifth in the competition. Brook, a private Long high school, edged out Os High, Public School A. Association champion, to the coveted crown.

As a result of Aquinas' performance, the meet of ranked the Little Irish as best in the state, and named Father Donald McGarriers as the number one Catholic High School country team in the E. State.

In order to gain the parochial position the A crew had to outrun the touted Albertus Magnus from New York City and steady's Bishop Gibbons School.

The Albertus Magnus entered the competition with an unimpaired record, and rated as the most powerful Catholic team in the Bishop Gibbons was the strongest team out metropolitan New York.
