First Friday Mass in Hospital
For the first time a First Friday Mass was held at the Extended Care Unit of the Auburn Memorial Hospital on Dec. 2 for patients and nurses. Mass was celebrated by Father John Glogowski, assistant pastor of Holy Family Church. At right is Mrs. Veronica Smith, unit supervisor.

Almost Gave Up Hope
Pastor for 25,000

Houston — (NC) — With young manish enthusiasm Father Umberto Olivieri speaks fondly of a town called Ixmiquilpan, Mexico.

"It has a lovely climate, is ideal country and as long as I can work, I shall stay there," Father Olivieri said.

He acknowledged the area has some drawbacks — fertile soil is sparse, his parishioners live in villages scattered throughout a 800-square mile area.

He serves at a church built in the mid-16th century. With two other priests, he looks after the spiritual welfare of some 25,000 persons in 30 villages.

Father Olivieri said the people are poor but constantly are working for progress. Five years ago a school for girls was opened by Franciscan nuns, and now has an enrollment of some 50 students. Another school for boys is planned.

In his own way, Father Olivieri is unusual. He's a native of Rome, taught for 21 years at the University of Santa Clara, Calif.

His burning ambition was to be a priest. "On his visit here, Father Olivieri said, 'The Lord shapes things so I became a priest when I had almost given up hope.'"

With special permission from the Holy See, he went to Rome, completed two years of study and was ordained to the priesthood. That was in 1954 — when he was 72 years old.

Now at 84, he shows no sign of let up in his enthusiasms and his work.

New Catechism Under Study

Rome — (RNS) — A group of Vatican experts has been appointed study complaints that a new Dutch Catechism for adults is theologically faulty, Italian Radio reported.

It said there had been charged that the catechism — introduced in October — departed from the Church's traditional teaching on such matters as the perpetual virginity of the Blessed Virgin, eternal life, original sin, and the presence of Christ in the Eucharist.

An announcement in Haarlem, Holland, last May said the traditional question-and-answer Catholic Catechism would be made a thing of the past by the new catechism. Previously children and adults had used the same catechism. The announcement then said that an adult catechism was being prepared and the catechism for children would be replaced by doctrinal manuals and a new curriculum of religious instruction.

The catechism, the bishops explained, was "written in simple language and offers one continuous exposition of the Catholic faith. It begins with the story of man in search of God and finishes with God in search of man."

Meat OK'd In Argentine

Buenos Aires — (RNS) — The Roman Catholic hierarchy has altered the rule on abstinence and now Argentine Catholics must abstain from meat only on Ash Wednesday and the Fridays during Lent.

Ash Wednesday and Good Friday were also designated as days of fasting.

Other decisions taken by the bishops at their plenary meeting included formation of the National Pastoral Institute to carry out the Church's plans for expanding its mission in spiritual, social, and cultural fields with an emphasis on activities in rural areas.
