

City of Rochester, N. Y.
OFFICE OF THE MAYOR

FRANK T. LAMB
MAYOR

December 15, 1966

Most Reverend Fulton J. Sheen
Bishop of Rochester
50 Chestnut Street
Rochester, New York 14604

Your Excellency:

It is with both official and personal pride that I extend to you a most cordial welcome to the City of Rochester.

All Rochesterians, regardless of creed, are grateful to the Church for sending us one of her truly distinguished sons. Few have come to this City with such brilliance of reputation and with such record of attainment so widely applauded. I share with Rochester's Catholic people a feeling of keen anticipation for a stewardship that will bring great credit to our community.

I assure you that the government of the City of Rochester is aware of many of the concerns you have so eloquently enunciated. As you said in your recent note to me, we should have much in common. I recall your belief that a shepherd and a Lamb ought to get on well together.

I wish you continued good health and a long and successful administration of the affairs of this Diocese. I am confident, as are all my fellow Rochesterians, that this flock is in the custody of a good and great man.

Sincerely yours,

Frank T. Lamb
