'Tis Friday the 13th. Are you haunted perhaps by fearful forebodings and wild imaginings? Will the Christmas gifts you've been intending to exchange now prove unexchangeable? Was that $50 you received from Uncle Ned thrown out with the discarded gift wrappings?

Alas and alack, this is a day for omens and prophecies. Here at POP headquarters we too have a few. As we look into our crystal ball we see a fearful sight—the long faces and stooped shoulders of those who

- · Have stacks of labels saved but haven't tallied them or turned
- Have made a great effort to make "POP" known in their parish - through bulletins, posters, etc.-but haven't told us about it, thus losing scads of bonus points for their group. But don't be afraid, friends, all the omens in the world can't lick the old "POP" spirit, So let confidence weave its magic spell and you'll soon be POPPING along again — with success not far ahead.

POP pitch on the back of their church bulletin of January 8th. It's worth the 200 bonus points it earns for St. Cecilia. We like the free and easy style so we're printing it here. . . .

> AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LADIES OF ST. CECILIA'S CHURCH

Dear Ladies:

Have you begun your post-Hollday diet? Royal Gelatin in many flavors is a perfect finish to a meal, satisfying and low in calories. If you're of the lucky few who don't have to watch pounds, try some of the Prince spaghetti and Macaroni products. Be sure to make your sauce with Hunt's Tomato Paste. Top i off with fresh-brewed Chase and Sanborn Coffee.

With the children off to school again, lunches to be packed. give them some Maplecrest sandwich meats. Easy and so-o-o-o good, too. And they just love those Russers hots for a mid-winter snack. Brings back a touch of summer again, doesn't it? With a bottle of 7-UP to bolster their energy for forthcoming exams, you'll but a smile back on their faces. And have you tried butter ing their breakfast toast with Blue Bonnet Margarine?

Any money left over after the holidays? Be sure to stash it away at Columbia Savings Bank. 1,000 points for new accounts used for laboratory instrumen would make St. Cecilia's tops in POPS.

Many thanks to all of you who have so faithfully saved their bottle caps, tin lids, labels and box fronts. If you haven't begun to save, it's not too late to start. All contributions to the POP boxes will be gratefully accepted

> Sincerely yours, Mary Kay Riedman Your Pop Chairman

Blessing for Legislature

Father Charles J. Lavery of St. John Fisher College gave the blessing at the opening of the new Monroe County Legislature which replaces the former Board of Supervisors. Legislator Peter J. Vander-Tang of Gates and Ogden welcomed Father Lavery to the historic event.
