

Participants in an evening of spiritual renewal at Holy Trinity parish, Webster, highlighted their program at a Mass at which members of congregation brought offerings to priests at altar.

Renewal For Webster Couples

An evening of spiritual renewal of the marriage vows highlighted the program in Webster was enthusiastically received by men and women of the parish.

A pre-Mass conference by Rev. Thomas O'Keefe, assistant pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Penfield, a full participation Mass, homily, reception of Holy Communion as couples and the

After Mass a selection of speakers was available. They were:

Mrs. Raymond McCormack, a graduate of Marquette University and presently preparing her thesis for a degree in sacred theology. Mrs. McCormack is a housewife and has written for Hi-Time Magazine.

Richard DeSanto, from the faculty of Nazareth College, spoke from a layman's point of view on the present day Church.

Sister Barbara Ann, also of Nazareth College who won her doctorate in philosophy at Notre Dame University spoke on teenagers and religion.

Couples then discussed the conferences they attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Asher Borten were chairmen of the program and said, "Due to the second year of great response, this event will be offered again next year for all the married couples in the parish."

Propagation Head Listed By First Friday Members

Monsignor John F. Duffy, diocesan director, Society for the Propagation of the Faith will address men of the First Friday Luncheon Club at Hotel Sheraton, Feb. 3.

The luncheon begins at 12:30 p.m. according to Eugene R. Custer, chairman of the Knights of Columbus sponsoring committee.

The February speaker has been director of the organization collecting funds for the Pope's mission activities throughout the world since June 27, 1961. Among trips made by Monsignor Duffy to promote wider interest in the missions was his visit made in July last year, to Brazil and Chile where Sisters of St. Joseph and Sisters of Mercy from this diocese are conducting missions.

He was ordained Dec. 22, 1945. He was first assigned as curate at St. James Church, Waverly and later at St. Mary's Church, Canandaigua in 1948; St. Cecilia's Church, Rochester in 1953; St. Stephen's Church, 1955 and Holy Cross Church in 1960.

He is the son of Father William Donnelly.
