Tyrone Guthrie Set for Nazareth

Taking a lecture break from a strenuous Broadway season which has included the direction of the George S. Kaufman-Edna Ferber comedy, "Dinner at Eight," the Metropolitan Opera Company's new production of Benjamin Britten's "Peter Grimes" and the Bristol Old Vic's "Measure for Measure," Sir Tyrone Guthrie will visit Rochester to appear at Nazareth College on Feb. 15 at 8 p.m.

A list of Guthrie's contributions to the theater might serve as an outline for a historical anthology of Western theater literature. His Broadway credits, alone, include widely acclaimed productions of "Troilus and Cressida," "Tamburlaine," "Candide," "Six Characters in Search of an Author," "The Makropoulos Secret," "The Tenth Man," "Gideon," "H.M.S. Pinafore," and "The Pirates of Penzance." The lecture is open to the Rochester community as well as to Nazareth students. Admission: $1.00.

'Come to the I

New Co

"Come to the Father" catechism of the 70's, a total new concept in religious education, was officially launched the Paulist Press at a conference today. The bold new program which has been hailed a "ten-year leap forward catechetics" is now being lated in one-third of the dioc in the country.

After four months of experimentation this program, be piloted in this area at St. drew's School, Rochester, been accepted with enthusiasm and "growing interest by teachers.

"Come to the Father" is result of collaboration between a team of 30 trained catechists, theologians, psychologists, sociologists and teachers who emenced their efforts in 1961 Canada. As the program deoped it was constantly tested the fall of 1964 a small gr of schools put it into use a full year. Only a year la in Canada, it was being by 125,000 students in 6, classrooms.

Because of the excellent suits it is now receiving in United States "Come to Father" is being made availa for immediate adoption.

"Come to the Father" is presented as "The first comprehensive catechetical program to reflect the renewal brought about by Vatican II" by
