

Color is the story of the year! Bold, bold stripes are a favorite way to make it strong. An entire cascade of flowers in the most glowing, greatest fresh colors.

Thru The Looking Glass This Season . . . . . . Added Reason

By LOUISE WILSON

Louise Wilson, Women's Editor of Station WHAM, is heard eleven times weekly 9:10 and 9:25 a.m., Monday through Friday, 9:30 a.m. Saturday.

Hats go to all extremes to please and flatter. Note the super scoop, neat and plain. The news in the great new shape. Or an outrageously flattering halo of flowers with its own matching tie-on bolero. No need to say, "I can't find a hat that looks well on me."

With the multitude of shapes, styles, colors, fabrics, any lady can be the fairest maiden in the Easter parade and for many months long after. This season, it is true, there's added reason for wearing a hat.

Choose a colorful sailor in big, bold stripes. A pretty print with a plain dress or with a matching scarf. A tiny head-hugging cap of printed cotton tied under the chin. Atop it, a circular straw hat that goes with the hat.

First Program On 'Retarded' Draws Parents

Geneva—A Day of Recollection for parents of retarded children was conducted Sunday at the Capuchin Seminary on Lochland Road. An invitation was extended to all parents of the greater Geneva area regardless of religious denomination.

THE PROGRAM was believed to be the first for persons having a special interest of this type. The Very Rev. Sebastian Falcone, O.F.M. Cap., conducted the program which was sponsored by the Immaculate Heart Fraternity, Third Order of St. Francis. Miss Margaret Buckley and Miss Florence Hoag were in charge of arrangements for the day. They were assisted by members of the fraternity at large.

The program opened at 2 p.m. First conference was on the subject "God's Unfinished Symphony" with private prayer and devotional reading. Second conference was on "The Shadow of God's Outstretched Arm."

A PANEL discussion was conducted at 4:15 p.m. Panelists were Margaret Buckley, certified social worker for Ontario County; Florence Hoag, special educator and member of the faculty of The Lochland School; and Elizabeth Stiles, a special educator, and director of Geneva's Workshop Development for the Retarded.

At 5:30 p.m. there was a Bible service on the subject "Of Stars is the Kingdom." The homily of lesson was on "God's Children And Yours." Refreshments were served later.

Evening of Frost Offered by CMA. A dramatic portrait of the poet Robert Frost—his poems, life and conversations—will be given at the Eastman Theater on Saturday at 8:15 p.m.

Donald Hall will portray the famed American poet, supported by a New York cast. Tickets available at the Eastman Theatre box office. Performances are sponsored by the Civic Music Association.

Pledge Paid Up

Mercy Hospital Auxiliary, which pledged $25,000 towards the Mercy Hospital Expansion Fund, made the final $5,000 payment on the pledge at a meeting held recently at Mercy Hospital, Auburn.
