Parish Education Unit

On Pentecost Monday the people of St. John of Rochester in Perinton gathered around the altar. Their purpose was to unite in prayer for the achievement of a goal. The priests and people had been working on the plans for this goal since last March. The initial plans completed, they now wanted to ask God's blessing on the work by offering a Mass of the Holy Spirit.

Plans involve the establishment of St. John's of a Commission on Parish Education. One of the purposes of this commission is to make available a program of Christian education for every age level in the parish. By nature education concerns itself largely with the child and adolescent. But the adult must constantly grow in knowledge also, so this program will be aimed at their interests as well.

Where does this program fit with regard to organizations and groups already existing within the parish? It is hoped that these structures will all be coordinated by the commission on education. So much of their effort is already directed along the lines of education that this commission is a natural for the richer development of these existing groups.

The parish elementary school together with the Saturday School of Religion constitute the basic educational structures. These will be enhanced and enriched by the commission. Also Catholic Action groups such as the Christian Family Movement (CFM) and the Legion of Mary will now be brought into the purposes and framework of the commission.

The following is reprinted from a bulletin prepared by the Perinton parish:

In the future parents will have to assume more responsibility in the religious education of their children. As the Vatican Council said, "... parents must be acknowledged as the actions toward the Christian witness; to search for ways to meet the above needs through teacher and helper talent within our parish; to assist in the action of developing good home atmosphere by supplementing knowledge of our Christian heritage through Scripture, Doctrine and Liturgy.

The Community-at-Large Committee is dedicated to education through Christian action. Proposed projects include ecumenical activities such as the "Living Room Dialogue" program and social reform activities. We need people sensitive to the job of Christianizing the world. We need creative and energetic persons who want to learn while they act.

Committee heads are: (home) Mrs. R. Donahue, 381-5812 or Mrs. J. Parthum, 586-4173; (school) Ted Cooper, 586-8530 or Mrs. F. Werner, 586-5854; (community at large) John Dash, 586-9047 or Bill McNeill, 377-5186; coordinator, Donald Muench. —(C.T.)

Essay Wins CWV Award

Seventy-four entries were submitted from 37 schools throughout Monroe County on the topic, "Free Text Books for Non-Public Schools?"

Judging was by Mr. Joseph Amoros and his English Department at Aquinas Institute.

Thomas Albright, 43 Sheraton Drive, Rochester, is the winner of 1967 Monroe County Catholic War Veteran's Essay Contest, according to Robert H. Kannan, Third Vice Commander. He will receive the $300.00 first prize during his June commencement at St. Charles Borromeo School.

Gail Snyder, also a St. Charles student, is the runner up in the contest.
