Install a window Air Conditioner

And we suggest you do it soon. We've already had some warm days and there's many more hot, humid days to come. Last year the temperature reached 80° or better fifty-nine days during June, July and August! That's a lot of hot weather. And this summer it will be just as hot. It always is. ■ And remember how difficult it was to get a good night's sleep? You tossed and turned and sweated. When morning came, you were bushed. And you still had a full day's work ahead of you. ■ Don't go through another summer without air conditioning. The benefits are many. Not only will you be more comfortable because clean, cool, fresh, dehumidified air is circulated all day (and night), but you'll find your family will have better appetites, they'll sleep sounder, and they'll be less irritable—even during the hottest, muggiest weather. ■ Window air conditioners are available in your appliance dealer's showroom. He has a size unit to suit your needs and it's budget priced. See him soon. Before a heat wave.
