Aid for Injured Children

New York — (RNS) — A poster released by the Committee of Responsibility to Save War-Burned and War-Injured Vietnamese Children dramatizes the suffering of young civilian casualties in South Vietnam. The Committee has obtained medical and hospital commitments for treatment of children in the United States. The first patients are expected to arrive in the near future. One of the sponsors of the project is Bishop Paul Moore, Jr., of the Episcopal Diocese of Washington, who spoke to priests of the Rochester Catholic Diocese this past spring.

'Man Makes Himself'

New Orleans — (NC) — "A man is what he makes himself. But a man is also, in large measure, what his family and his fellows have made him. A priest, a bishop, not unlike other men, is very much a creature of his generation."

The speaker was Marist Superior General Father Joseph Buckley, S.M. The subject was Bishop Gerard L. Frey of Savannah, Ga. Father Buckley spoke at Bishop Frey's consecration here in the new contemporary St. Francis Cabrini Church built by the new bishop.

Bishop Frey, said Father Buckley, "has enjoyed a remarkably opportune and auspicious preparation for the office of bishop in the post-Vatican II Church."

Youth Club at Annunciation

One of the most successful youth clubs in the Rochester Diocese is at Annunciation parish, Rochester, where close to 300 teenagers keep busy with a busy schedule of services to the church and recreation programs for themselves. Mrs. Rose Ridgely is moderator of the group. Officers, pictured as the club was recently ready to go on a three-bus trip to Crystal Beach are Catherine Zakrzewski, Thomas DiNardo, Mrs. Ridgely, Roseanne Guglietta, Debbie Zury and Joanna Borrelli.

The Old Catechism Makes a Convert

Cleveland — (NC) — Joseph C. Pednekar of India worked hard at learning English at a Catholic college so that he could study Marx.

He picked up a Catholic catechism (strictly for more practice in English) and eventually became a convert and then a priest.

He attended a Portuguese college operated by the Missionaries of St. Francis de Sales, the order to which he now belongs. Said Father Joseph:

"Man proposes and God disposes. I wanted to study Marx and God wanted something else."

"Above all, I was impressed with the thought of one God and one true religion."

Father Joseph was baptized at the college in Nag Pur in 1952 when he was 21, and 10 years later was ordained in the Papal Seminary in Poona.

Rumored Decision On 'Pill' Denied

Vatican City — (RNS) — A Vatican spokesman strongly denied rumors now circulating in the European press and abroad that Pope Paul plans to issue an encyclical on birth control and particularly on the anti-ovulation "pill" in September or October.

The spokesman, who asked not to be named, said that no such encyclical is now in preparation and that, because of the length of time required to write, print and translate such a document, it would certainly be impossible to have one ready before the Synod of Bishops begins its meeting in Rome on Sept. 29.

According to some press reports, the encyclical or at least a papal statement of some kind on birth control was to be made public before the opening of the Synod to forestall discussion of the subject by "progressive" bishops at that meeting.

A statement in some form other than an encyclical is not theoretically impossible, the Vatican spokesman said. He added. The Pope may announce his findings in a speech on any appropriate occasion.

The Vatican spokesman said, however, that it was most unlikely that the Pope would make such an important announcement in such an informal way.

Lucy's Third Vision

Plainfield, N.J. — (NC) — A 1929 apparition of the Blessed Mother to Sister Lucy, the Carmelite nun who is the only survivor of the three children of the Fatima vision, was reported to members of the Blue Army of Mary at a seminar here.

The third apparition, which according to Father Messias D. Coelho, a Portuguese professor, took place in a convent chapel in Tuy, Spain, in 1929, had not previously been made public.

It was described by Father Coelho in a tape-recorded address to the Blue Army seminar Monday, August 7.

During the apparition, he said, Sister Lucy saw a huge cross with the crucified Christ upon it and a dove and the face of God the Father above it.

A radiant gure of Mary appeared beneath the cross, he said, and told Sister Lucy, "This is the last hour—this is the last hour to make the consecration of Russia and Communions of reparation."

Father Coelho said that Sister Lucy reported the alleged vision to the Pope in a letter but that the document had been kept secret because of her reticence and earlier lack of papal approval for publication of visions subsequent to Fatima.

The Blue Army was founded 20 years ago as "a spiritual army of Our Lady to fight atheism and foster peace with the Fatima weapons of prayer, sacrifice and charity." Its founder was Msgr. Harold V. Colgan, pastor of St. Mary's church here where the seminar was held.

Catholic Union Backs U.S. War in Vietnam

Pittsburgh — (RNS) — A resolution backing continuation of the Vietnam war until the South Vietnamese get "freedom and security" was adopted by the Catholic Central Union of America and its affiliate, the National Catholic Women's Union, at their joint annual convention here.

Dealing with the "Church on War and Peace," the resolution declared: "We recognize this responsibility and support the government in prosecuting the military action in Vietnam to a point where North Vietnam and its Communist supporters will respect the freedom and security of the South Vietnamese people."

(Several delegates, including attorney Joseph H. Gervais, attended from Rochester.)

The Central Union was founded in 1855 to promote mutual assistance and fellowship among German immigrants to America. Its women's group was started in 1905. The lay organizations have since supplied Catholic overseas missions with a variety of materials, such as clothing, bandages and other medical equipment, religious articles and miscellaneous gifts.

In other resolutions, the organization attacked "immodest fashions," and urged "Christian men and women to combat this scourge by offering prayers of reparation . . . creating a public opinion which will glorify modesty . . . refusing to patronize a store which caters to nudity . . . and insisting that those in their care wear modest clothes."

Another resolution opposed abortion and artificial contraception. It said that the groups were against "any and all civil laws and practices that in any way are contrary to the will of God and detrimental to human society."
