

How We Worship Today, Tomorrow

Kansas City, Mo. — (RNS) — The closing Mass of the 27th Liturgical Week was offered in Kansas City by Father John E. Corrigan, assistant pastor of St. Gabriel's Parish, Washington, D.C.

Kansas City, Mo. — (RNS) — Father Thomas E. Ambrogli, S.J., professor of ecumenics at Woodstock (Md.) College, demonstrated one possible form for "A Mass of the future" at the 27th Liturgical Week in Kansas City.

Kansas City, Mo. — (RNS) — Cartoon characters from the popular "Peanuts" comic strip provided some of the themes which were interwoven at the 27th Liturgical Week held in Kansas City. Eileen O'Connor, a worker for the Liturgical Week, is shown admiring the philosophical dog, Snoopy, from the strip.

Notre Dame, Ind. — (RNS) — Father Clarence J. Rivers (left) rehearses a combo of piano, organ, bass and amplified trumpet for a performance of his latest composition, a Mass entitled "The Brotherhood of Man." The new Mass was performed at the annual convention of the Christian Family Movement at the University of Notre Dame. Delegates to the convention formed a volunteer choir for the presentation. Father Rivers' new composition had been previously performed at the Newport (R.I.) Jazz Festival.

Kansas City, Mo. — (RNS) — A psychedelic-appearing young Miss "happened" to walk by the camera during a "happening" which opened the 1967 Liturgical Week in Kansas City's Municipal Auditorium. Balloons were released from the ceiling at the climax of the event, which included colored slides, community singing, taped music that sounds the way a Picasso looks and the projection of a gigantic cartoon from the "Peanuts" comic strip with the motto: "I love mankind . . . It's people I can't stand." Bishop Charles H. Helmsing of Kansas City-St. Joseph caught one of the balloons.

Drive Safely— School is On!

A massive safety promotion will be launched this week to alert school children to the dangers on streets and highways. The campaign will be conducted for the 18th consecutive year by Dairy Lea, the production cooperative of the Dairywomen's League.

The organization will time its advertising and public relations campaign to coincide with the return to school next week of millions of young students.

In conjunction with the safety program, Dairy Lea will offer colorful, protective schoolbook covers, each carrying four basic safety rules, as a helpful reminder to children.

The organization's trucks, which travel the streets of 45 cities in New York and Pennsylvania, will carry safety reminder posters to reach other motorists.

Announcement of the safety campaign was made by R. F. Peasback, advertising manager for Dairywomen's League Cooperative Association, Inc., and Emerson P. Bartlett, manager of the local branch.

WEEKLY CROSSWORD

ACROSS

1. Girl's name
6. Depression in marshy ground
11. Eng. psychologist
12. Race horse
13. Melody
14. Long rug
15. Bodies of water
16. Comes in
17. Packs of playing cards
19. Inborn river
22. Ohio college town
25. Nitrous oxide
28. Inland part of a country: abbr.
29. "Two Gentlemen from . . ."
30. Creed
32. Oil well
35. Congo river
39. Unblinds
40. Gang
41. Burn, as with liquid
42. Gleam
43. Harmonizes
44. College girls

DOWN

1. Minus
2. Genus of lily
3. Forearm bone
4. Formerly, the legislature of Denmark
5. Like
6. Pluck
7. Desires
8. Skin disorder
9. Ogle
10. Blunders
14. Parts of telephones
18. Anglo-Saxon letter
19. Asian river
20. Girl's name
21. Walnut or pecan
22. Past
23. Cupid
24. Third king of Judah
26. The late
27. Mr. Sparks
27. Marx
30. Santiago is its capital
31. Bamboo-like grasses
32. Brief blast of wind
33. Strange: Scot. abbr.
34. Musial
36. One of the Great Lakes
37. Allow the use of
38. Female sheep
42. Palmetto State: abbr.

ANSWER

36. One of the Great Lakes

37. Allow the use of

38. Female sheep

42. Palmetto State: abbr.

