Papal Visit Cures Blindness

Vatican City — (NC) — A 46-year-old Brazilian woman has claimed to be cured of blindness after a period of 27 years following an audience with Pope Paul. However, no such reaction was forthcoming from officials at the Vatican.

The woman is Lillia Vellini Athon, born at Sao Paulo, Brazil, who was received in audience by the Pope "in recent days." After the audience she claimed to be able to see and identified various objects. However, claims of a miraculous cure were offset by papal attendants, who said that any change could probably be attributed to an emotional reaction.
