K. of C. Deputy Calls For Renewal

At a meeting of all Grand Knights and District Deputies of the Knights of Columbus in New York State, held in Monticello, New York on Sept. 8, James E. Foley, State Deputy of the New York State Council Knights of Columbus called upon the entire membership of his organization to enter into a renewal of community spirit in order to help solve and alleviate many of the inadequacies with which today's society is faced.

Speaking before the leaders of the 385 Councils in the State of New York, representing a membership of 127,000, Foley reminded the audience that the Knights of Columbus was born during a period of religious and ethnic discrimination and hatred. The spirit that gave rise to the foundation of our order, he continued, must be renewed today in order to assure all of our people an equal opportunity which is demanded by Christian justice and our constitution.

Mr. Foley called upon the membership to participate in the anti-poverty program in the various committees throughout the State so that the talents of the Knights of Columbus might be utilized and so that the management of these programs would not fall into detrimental and self-seeking hands. He further stated that it is necessary for all those who have belief in God and a love of country to assume the leadership that is needed in the world today.

Ford Fund For 7 Nuns

Cleveland — (RNS) — Seven Roman Catholic nuns will work here for a year to improve understanding and communication between the city's ethnic groups and Negroes.

The Sisters will be housed and headquartered at the Cleveland diocese-operated St. John College under a $200,000 grant from the Ford Foundation to the National Catholic Conference for Interracial Justice and the American Council for Nationalities Service.

The team will train local leaders among racial and ethnic groups.

Matthew Ahmann, executive director of NCCIJ, and Robert Goldfarb, director of the nationalistic service, developed the program in a series of meetings here with Cleveland civic and educational leaders.

Research professors for all Cleveland universities and colleges met this summer under the direction of St. John College president Msgr. Lawrence P. Cahill and Ursuline Sister Maureen, chairman of the Sisters Senate.

'Seed Money' For Housing

Cleveland — (RNS) — The Roman Catholic Diocese of Cleveland, through a non-profit corporation formed earlier this year, is sponsoring the largest housing rehabilitation yet announced for the Hough area, scene of last year's bitter and tragic race riots.

It has guaranteed $500,000 in "seed money" to anchor government loans and make possible a five-block, $5.3 million rebuilding and building program.

A total of 598 modern apartment units will be provided with one, two, three, four and five bedrooms. Rents—some of which will be paid through the U.S. government's rent supplement program—will run from $83 to $120.

Dahlia Show

The 28th annual Dahlia Show will also be a feature presentation. This is sponsored by the Rochester Dahlia Society and will be open to the public at the Museum from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Dear Friends,
We hear that some of our COURIER readers, who aren't members of a registered POP group, occasionally read this column.

If you are one of these interested people and belong to an organization, work for some charity or school, why not persuade your particular group to join POP? There's absolutely nothing to lose and everything to gain.

As an individual member you can't of course assume responsibility for your group, but at least discuss the possibility of joining with the president and other members. If they like the idea, an ad in today's COURIER will make it easy. Just have your president fill out the attached form and mail it to us. Presto! We'll send her (or him) an official registration card together with all the necessary information.

Our current POP "Game"—No. 2—will be over at the end of the month, September 30, and a new Game will begin immediately on October 1. Many organizations which were inactive during the summer are now resuming their activities. Almost without exception they'll need funds to operate—they'll be planning at least one, perhaps several, fund-raising projects. Since this beginning of the club season coincides with the start of a new POP Game, it's an ideal time to register for POP. It gives members a chance to save more labels, to pile up more profits.

SPECIAL TO POP PRESIDENTS AND CHAIRMEN:

At this time of year there are usually new officers at the helm, new committee chairmen appointed. Are you new on the job? We'll soon be sending out various bulletins, instructions about new POP Products, etc. for our third POP Game. It will save much time and effort if these go directly to you, the person now responsible, rather than to the past president or chairman.

So if there has been a change in officers and (or) POP Chairman, please let us know as soon as possible. Send us your name, address and phone number, and of course the name of the organization.

FLASH!

Summer alas seems to be fleeting. That nip in the air calls for heartier meals, and hotter ones too. A good thick soup such as Minestrone will surely hit the spot. The name, by the way, is derived from the Latin, "to hand out." Long ago, when monks tended the needs of weary travelers, this great soup was the staple food kept ready on the fire. Here's a recipe from Prince which retains all the savor of an old favorite:

- Minestrone Soup
- 1 small onion, minced
  - 1 clove garlic, minced
  - 2 tbsp. olive or salad oil
  - 1 cup chopped tomatoes
  - 5 beef bouillon cubes
  - ½ cup diced celery
  - 1 cup chopped cabbage
  - 1 tsp. salt
  - ½ tsp. pepper
  - 1 lb. can white or red kidney beans
  - 1 cup Prince Shells (No. 39) Small
  - ¼ cup Prince Parmesan Grated Cheese

Saute onions and garlic in oil until soft. Add tomatoes, bouillon cubes, 1½ quarts water, celery and cabbage. Bring to a boil and simmer about 30 minutes until vegetables are tender. Add seasonings, beans and Prince Shells and simmer 5 to 10 minutes more. Stir in Grated Cheese and serve. Serve 4-6. (Recipe may also be doubled.)
