

D.C. Catholics Told Need for Authority

Washington—(RNS)—Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle, speaking before a crowd of nearly 60,000, said that while the authority of the Church is not absolute, that authority is necessary in the presence of new-found freedom in the Church to demonstrate "responsibility for the common good."

Staging a Year of Faith celebration in compliance with a request from Pope Paul VI, Cardinal O'Boyle, Archbishop of Washington, said, "Seldom in the 1,000-year history of our Holy Church has there been so urgent a need for renewal of faith as in our present century when men have learned so much about the universe about them, but have found so little to believe in."

Nearly one in every six of the 365,000 Catholics in the Washington Archdiocese gathered before an outdoor altar at Catholic University to take part in the Year of Faith service.

Appealing to a "lively and vigorous increase to that faith which you manifest today," Cardinal O'Boyle, at one point in his sermon, spoke of some modern-day Catholics as "once having had the seed of faith, (but) allowing it to wither away."

POP TOPICS

Dear POP Friends,
Your BIG DAY is here... the publication by your COURIER of the second Semi-Annual Awards Issue of the POP Brand Winners. We congratulate each and every one, particularly of course those who made the TOP TEN.

We'd also like to extend a special word of praise and appreciation to those chairmen who were so faithful in making turns: Mrs. Howard Ross—St. Bridget's Rosary Society, East Bloomfield; Brother Jeremy — Novices Mission Club, Conesus; Mrs. Harold Neener—Maxwell Guild, Rochester; Mrs. Shirley Fess—St. John the Evangelist Rosary Society, Greece; Mrs. John Gartland—K. of C. Auxiliary, Rochester; Mrs. Robert Sullivan, St. Andrew's Altar and Rosary Society, Dundee; Mrs. William Maher—St. Michael's School, Rochester; Mrs. Lewis Carroll, St. Ann's Home-School Association, Palmyra.

POP FUNDS can be the answer to your organization's Fund-Raising Needs... whether they are for a school, club, charitable, scout or civic project. The check you'll receive next week is your proof that POP Label-Saving-Fund-Raising Pays Off in Cash.

POP Game No. 3 is already four weeks old. Although the remaining 22 weeks now seem like a long long period with the end far in the future, we all know how "distance" has a habit of creeping up on us. Now is the time to start to POP Shop your way to the Top Ten in Game No. 3.

Below you'll find the completed Shopping List for this Game. Many of the products have been with us since the start of the COURIER POP Program... three are new... be sure to note these: LAND O' LAKES BUTTER — Save the "guaranteed" pane; RED STAR YEAST—Save the three-strip package; SEVEN UP—Save the bottle cap.

PROOF OF PURCHASE CHANGE: Because of possible injury to fingers in counting Chase & Sanborn Lids, from now on please save the Plastic Top instead of the metal lid.

(Incidentally, if you have any proofs of purchase for products no longer on the POP List, please save these temporarily. They may come back on the List.)

As well as being a red-letter day for POP participants, this is also an important time for the kiddies—the advent of Halloween. The Wise Potato Chip Company has a special Halloween package priced just right for those who'll be welcoming "tricks or treaters"—24 cello packs of delicious, healthful Wise Chips to give to the small ghosts and goblins who come to your door. You'll find this special packet at all quality food stores.

If you plan to do some Halloween entertaining, Wise Chips can also be of help in your menu-planning. Here's a recipe that should prove especially appealing to your adult guests:

Hawaiian Chip Dessert
1 4 oz. bag Wise Potato Chips, crushed
1 cup cottage cheese
1 cup currant or other tart jelly (12 oz. glass)
1 tsp. ginger
1 can sliced pineapple (8 slices—30 oz. can) whipped cream
candied red or green cherries for garnish

Blend crushed Wise Chips with cheese, jelly and ginger until smooth. Divide mixture to cover pineapple slices. Garnish with whipped cream, topped with candied cherries, if desired. Serves 8.

Note: Chip mixture yields about 2 cups.

And don't forget that Wise Chips can be used in a variety of other ways: in casseroles, as an ingredient in sandwich spreads and appetizers, as a topping for fish and meats. Of course, just served plain as an accompaniment to other foods, the "many faces" of Wise just can't be beat!

WE WOULD LIKE TO WELCOME THE NEW ORGANIZATIONS WHICH HAVE JOINED THE POP BRAND WAGON IN RESPONSE TO OUR "COUPON" INVITATION. IF YOUR NON-PROFIT ORGANIZATION HAS NOT YET DISCOVERED POP FUND-RAISING, JUST FILL OUT THE COUPON BELOW AND MAIL TODAY TO: COURIER JOURNAL, POP OFFICE, 35 SCIO ST., ROCHESTER, N.Y. 14618. DOMED BELL TOWER, matching the four thin-shell concrete domes of the main structure, is key feature of the newly completed Holy Name of Jesus Church in Greece. First Solemn Mass in the new edifice will be held this Sunday.

Holy Name Church Opens

The striking new Holy Name of Jesus Church in Greece will hold its first Solemn High Mass this Sunday, Oct. 29, at 12:30 a.m. The new church and rectory, of natural lighting above the altar. Three carillon bells grace the open tower.

Father Thomas M. Reddington, pastor of the three year old parish, will be principal celebrant of the Mass. Other concelebrants will be Monsignor Robert A. Keleher, pastor of St. Charles Church, Father Donald Lux of St. John the Evangelist (Greece) Church, and Father John Reddington, pastor of St. Louis in Pittsford, and brother of the host pastor.

The new church and rectory, of natural lighting above the altar. Three carillon bells grace the open tower. Built with modern liturgical requirements in mind, the church will accommodate 700 persons. A schedule of Masses at 6:30, 8, 9:30 and 11 a.m., 12:30 and 5 p.m. has been established to take care of the 1,000 families in the parish.

Contracts for the combined church-rectory structure were signed for approximately $600,000. Architects were Genovese and Maddalena of Glen Rock, N.J. Dr. Mario Salvadori, professor of architecture at New York University, designed the shell domes. The structural engineering was done by Paul Weidinger Co. General construction was handled by Werner Spitz Construction Company.

20th Anniversary For First Saturday Mass

Twenty years of First Saturday Masses will be marked by Bishop Kearney when he celebrates a new seminary Saturday Mass on Saturday, Nov. 4 for the International Federation of Catholic Alumnae. The chapel of St. Mary's Hospital will be the locale for the 5 p.m. Mass.

Bishop Kearney began the custom of offering a Mass in honor of the Immaculate Heart of Mary for world peace in opening of a new seminary, Sacred Heart Cathedral on Dec. 7, 1947. The tradition was maintained by the Rochester Circle, German Catholic news agency.

Seminarians Increase
Bonn, Germany — (NC) An increase in the number of seminarians has required the building in Latomerice, Czechoslovakia, according to KNA, German Catholic news agency.

See Church As Family
Kinshasa, The Congo — (NC) Among the pastoral goals stressed by the bishops of the Congo in their plenary assembly this year is the creation of an intimate, loving and spiritually united family rather than an organization.

The directives formulated at the June meeting, and just now released, insisted on the necessity for the clergy, in their exercise of their apostolic ministry, to act as brothers among their brothers.

The directives also emphasized the duty of priests to promote the responsibility of the laity in the expansion and renewal of the Church in the Congo.

KC Elects McDevitt
Elkhart, Ind. — (RNS) John W. McDevitt has been named supreme knight of the Knights of Columbus for the fifth consecutive term of a meeting of the K. of C. board of directors here.

Officials elected at the meeting of the directors of the 1.2-million member fraternal society of Catholic men were: Virgil C. Dechant of New Haven, Conn., supreme secretary; Howard E. Murphy of Hamden, Conn., assistant supreme secretary; Frank E. McGillen of Chicago, supreme master of the fourth degree; and W. Kenneth Johnson of Charleston, S.C., supreme warden.
