Turning Squirrmers into Learners

A husband-wife team at St. Lawrence parish, Greece, have turned four-year old squirmers into learners — and relieve their parents of the distracting chore of child-watching while attending Mass.

Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis have seen their nursery school grow in three years from 18 young pupils to 97 — and have helped four other parishes launch similar projects.

Their faculty has grown from two to six — plus those who staff the nursery classes in the other parishes.

Most of the teachers have taken the Confraternity of Christian Doctrine courses in religious instruction but have had to use their own ingenuity to adapt the lessons for younger children.

Mrs. Curtis said most classes include a story from the Bible and then the children act it out with an attempt to translate it into their own life.

She has also been anxious to introduce the youngsters to the needs of other children — through candy given at Halloween for inner city children, toys for poor youngsters — as also simple ceremonies like a "good deeds" comforter for the Infant Savior at Christmas and a crowning of our Lady during May.

Mrs. Curtis' faculty at St. Lawrence includes Mrs. Mary Blakely, Marilyn Curtis, Sally Gee, Margaret Kiefer, Elizabeth Lampert, Patricia Lincoln, Diane and Elizabeth Schott.

Mr. Curtis is both faculty adviser and custodian. He sees to it that items are ready in each classroom, like films and projectors, records and photographs, color books, etc. He's also an avid reader, particularly of text books for young children.

The nursery classes are held at St. Lawrence parish each Sunday during the 10:15 a.m. Mass. Other parishes with similar nursery schools are Mother of Sorrows, Our Lady of Mercy and St. John's, all neighboring parishes in Greece, and Holy Name parish, also in Greece, plans to start such classes soon.

Mr. and Mrs. James Curtis of St. Lawrence parish check their textbooks before nursery class for pre-schoolers.

Mrs. Curtis introduces youngsters to Mass ritual with doll their size robed as priest at altar.

Library Assoc.
Lists Scholarships

The Catholic Library Association announces a scholarship in Library Science to be awarded for graduate study toward a master's degree. The scholarship consists of an award of $1,000 to the person chosen by the Scholarship Committee of the Catholic Library Association.

Promise of success based on collegiate record and evidence of need for financial help have been established as a norm for awarding the scholarship. Religious, as well as lay people, are eligible for the award. The recipient may enter the graduate library school of his choice.

Applications must be filed at the C.L.A. Headquarters by February 15, 1968. The award will be announced at the Annual Convention of the Association in April, 1968, in St. Paul, Minnesota.
