

America's Foremost Catholic Comedian

RON CAREY

as seen on the
JOHNNY CARSON show

AT LAST! A Funny Record about Church Business and Church Doings. Hear the record, "The Slightly Irreverent Comedy of Ron Carey." Hear Ron Carey joke about collections, church bazaars, bingo games . . . Hear Ron Carey's clever humor as he does a take-off on modern TV shows, and does a "hit parade" of Catholic top tunes.

You'll howl at Carey's version of a monk "sergeant" doing an indoctrination of young monk "recruits." Hear "Father Murphy," "The Liturgical Top Ten," "Petey The Priest Kid," "Brother Love," plus many more hilarious spoofs you've seen Carey do on leading television shows. Everybody is talking about this inventive young comedian who isn't afraid to poke fun at tradition, but all in good taste.

Now you can have the original record featuring all his hit routines that set America laughing on the Tonight Show, The Merv Griffin Show, The Steve Allen Comedy Hour, and The Joey Bishop Show.

Be sure to order right now in time for the holidays and for gifts.

Catholic Press Features says . . . an unusual record album of humorous religious monologues poking good-natured fun at Catholic sermons, "hip" priests, monastery life, and other facets of Catholicism.

The New York Times says . . . "Mr. Carey kids the Ecumenical movement, . . . bingo and bazaars, the link between the pulpit and the radio and television microphone. His wit is literate and sharp."

Newsweek says . . . "Carey looks like a fat-cheeked altar boy who just swallowed the sacramental wine . . . 'I'm not a rebel', he says. 'I'm a court jester. I kid the surface.'"

Look Magazine says . . . "Ron Carey likes to shoot felt-tipped arrows at his Church's establishment. He dispenses lighthearted spoofs of church collections, Sunday sermons, monks' indoctrination, bazaars and bingo."
