Cards Suffer First Defeat

Cardinal Mooney's high flying cagers were finally knocked out of the undefeated ranks last Saturday, dropping a 51-41 count to Madison at Mooney.

It was a generally bad night for Catholic high school basketball, as they dropped a total of four games to area public schools. Franklin nipped Aquinas in a thriller, 47-46; Brighton squeezed by McQuaid, 41-39 (see separate story on this page) and Monroe dumped three weekend contests.

Mooney had eight straight victories going into the Madison clash, but the Madison Parkers had too much going as they registered a clear-cut triumph.

Henry Harris, Willie Williams and Jim Hunter provided a strong 1-2-3 punch for the winners, chalking up 14, 12 and 12 points respectively.

Gary Braun stood out for the Cardinals in defeat as he tallied 19 points.

Supreme Court To Study New York Textbook Law

By JOHN R. SULLIVAN
(NC News Service)

Washington — The U.S. Supreme Court has agreed to examine the constitutionality of a 1965 New York law allowing the state to lend textbooks to children in church-related schools

The law is being challenged by some local public school boards in the state on the ground that it violates the U.S. Constitution's First Amendment prohibition against "establishment of religion."

The Supreme Court wil lhear arguments in the spring and return a written opinion before it recesses in June

The New York law, which became effective in September, 1966, allows the state to purchase textbooks and lend them to children in private schools—including those operated by churches—in grades 7 through 12.

Local school boards which receive a subsidy from the state to operate the program, have no choice—they must cooperate.

A Supreme Court decision could affect similar programs in six other states. Mississippi, Rhode Island, West Virginia, Indiana, Louisiana and Kansas. Three other states have passed textbook laws, but have had them thrown out for violation of state constitutional restrictions.

The New York law was found unconstitutional in August, 1966, by the Albany County Supreme Court on the ground that it violated the state's Blaine Amendment prohibition against state aid to church-related schools, and the First and 14th Amendments to the U.S. Constitution.

The state's Appellate Division reversed the ruling, but avoided the issue of constitutionality. Instead, it found that the school boards did not have standing to sue.

The New York Court of Appeals—the state's highest court—on June 1, 1967, completed the picture. It ruled, 4-3, that the boards did have standing, but that the law violated neither state nor federal constitution, since it benefitted the students, not the church institutions.

ST. PATRICK'S, Victor — The Altar Rosary Society will hold a card party at 8 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 24, at the School of religion. Miss Virginia Mead and Mrs. Ray Keefe have charge.

U.S., Canadian Bishops Confer

Detroit — (NC) — United States and Canadian bishops held a two-day meeting here at the home of Detroit's Archbishop John F. Dearden. They said the talks were so useful that they will meet again this fall.

The bishops said they discussed the liturgy, religious education, mission aid, and moral and ethical problems, but announced no agreement on joint programs. They indicated, however, that such programs—particularly relating to the Latin American Church—will probably emerge eventually.

In an official release at the end of the meeting (Jan. 6-7), the bishops said the discussion of moral and ethical questions was concerned mainly with "problems reflected in legislative trends." Both the U.S. and Canada have been under pressure to relax anti-abortion laws in recent years.

Archbishop Dearden, president of the U.S. National Conference of Catholic Bishops, led the American delegation. Others were John Cardinal Krol of Philadelphia, NCCB vice president; John Cardinal Cody of Chicago and Bishop John J. Wright of Pittsburgh.

The Canadian delegation was led by Canadian Catholic Conference president, Bishop Alexander Carter of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.

Knights Edge Mt. Carmel; Bow to Brighton Rally

By TIM BERGIN

McQuaid Jesuit High split a pair of tight home games last weekend, outlasting a fast Mt. Carmel of Auburn five, 72-66, on Friday, then dropping a tough decision to Brighton High's Barons, 41-39, on Saturday.

This Saturday the Knights (6-4) battle once-beaten Cardinal Mooney for first place in the Catholic League in the 7 o'clock opener of a War Memorial doubleheader. Aquinas and Kearney both seek their first league win in the nightcap.

The McQuaidmen went to work quickly on Mt. Carmel. Led by Bob Madden and Brad Smith they forged an 18-9 first-quarter cushion. Kevin Dwyer's 8 points led a second-quarter spree as the Knights roared to a 40-21 count at half-time.

In the third period, however, the Carmelites, unveiling an aggressive full-court press, peeled off nine straight points. McQuaid answered back with six in a row, but the visitors promptly strung 12 more together, and the Knights had a mere 50-46 lead starting the last quarter.

Mt. Carmel closed to 65-62 with 45 seconds remaining, but John Connolly dropped in three foul shots before Rich Bolash hit on 2 free throws and a basket to inch his team up to 68-66, seventeen seconds from the end. Smith's foul conversions and Mark Welt's basket then wrapped it up.

Bolash, only a freshman, grabbed scoring honors with 25 points and teammate John McLeod had 20 for the losers. The Knights displayed their usual well-balanced attack as Smith hit for 18, Dwyer for 16, and Nick Combs for 10.

The Brighton contest was another hectic story. McQuaid managed a 22-17 lead at halftime, but the Barons' sticky zone defense and sound board strength enabled them to creep up to 27-26 heading into the final period.

After the two teams had seesawed to a 35-35 tie, Brighton's John Gollon hit on a jumper with 1:58 to play, and McQuaid never caught up. Ross Shapiro made sure of that with 2 fouls at the 55 second mark and a basket 30 seconds later, leaving McQuaid to fall short on late clicks by Smith and Madden.

Shapiro's 13 points in the second half made the difference in the dogfight and earned him game high with 21. Smith and Combs had 13 and 10 for the Knights.

In J.V. action, the junior Knights looked sharp twice, ripping their Carmel counterparts, 68-30, and smashing Brighton, 75-45. On the other side of the ledger, McQuaid's frosh suffered a lop-sided loss at the hands of Mt. Carmel.
