We let nature take its course...
POTATOES are the start, and the greater part of the finished product. Wise potatoes have to be the right species, grown in the right soil and with the right amount of sun and rain. We take the pick of many harvests and then age them like wine. Naturally, such potatoes make Wise Potato Chips better.
VEGETABLE OIL—pure, liquid, and unhydrogenated—is the only thing we cook our pedigreed potatoes in. Exactly how we do it is our secret, but the natural result is a fuller-flavored, fresher-tasting potato chip.
NATURALLY we add a little salt and heat-seal our potato chips in double cellophane to keep 'em fresh and full of flavor. But from start to finish, we add nothing to, subtract nothing from the goodness of the best potatoes, oil and salt. Human nature being what it is, Wise Potato Chips are the favorite everywhere they're sold and served.
And you'll enjoy the difference
