In the race for first place in Scarlet Division (grammar school), Our Lady of Lourdes defeated St. Bridget 28-27 for undisputed first place. This, however, resulted in a two-way tie for second between St. Bridget and Our Lady of Perpetual Help—each with an 8-2 record.

In the Sacred Heart win over St. Ambrose a new school record of 38 points in a game was set by Don Baker who beat George Meek's 37 point record in the 1964-65 Sacred Heart season. St. Pius X scored an upset victory over Holy Rosary 27-24.

The high school game of the week saw Holy Rosary defeat Sacred Heart for the second time this year 53-43 and stablish a two-way tie for first place in the Western Division. Schausell's 17 and Dady's 13 points led Holy Rosary's victory, while Meek led the losers with 19.

ers' Tom Ritschard at the wire in the record time of 4:35.5. Ritschard, an exchange student from Switzerland, set the old mark of 4:42.2 two weeks ago.

Leonard's winning time of 6.3 in the 45-yard high hurdles tied his own previous record and launched Kearney on its way to a 43-point total, best of the nine schools which competed.

Following the Kearney victors were Bishop Gibbons of Schenectady with 31, Christian Brother's Academy of Syracuse with 27, Madison H. S. with 11, Batavia with 7, Webster H. S. with 6 and McQuaid, who placed 4th in the 4 lap relay, with 2.

ND Cops One, Drops Two

E'mira — Notre Dame's Crusaders won one, lost two in basketball action last week. The Crusaders downed Corning West, 79-48, then dropped decisions to Elmira Free Academy, 78-66 and Cardinal Mooney, 60-52.

Against Corning West, Notre Dame got off to a slow start, barely led, 28-26 at halftime. A powerful second half drive left the Vikings in the distance, however, as ND piled up 51 points in two stanzas. Paul Bussell dunked 25 points, turned in an excellent floor game.

Last Friday, Elmira Free Academy broke a tight contest open in the third quarter to sink Notre Dame, 78-66. Ron Gillam's spectacular 36-point output led the Blue Devils in their victory.

Cardinal Mooney downed the Elmirans last Saturday night, clinching the battle at the free throw line. The Cards dropped 22 of 34 charity tosses, against ND's 12 of 19 attempts. Doug Farrell and Dick Felber with 28 and 18, topped Mooney, while Arnie Westervelt and Paul Bussell had 21 and 15 in their losing cause.

Cards Clinch City Catholic High Title

Cardinal Mooney's powerful basketeers clinched the Rochester Catholic high school championship last weekend, downing a stubborn Aquinas five, 47-43. The win gave Coach Ed Nietopski's kids a 5-0 league mark, as McQuaid was eliminated from the race in losing to Kearney, 48-47, the same night.

Aquinas proved no pushover for the champions, and were within three points with only three minutes to play. Dick Felber, who paced the Cards with 16 counters, led his mates to a strong finish, however, to lock up the title.

Eight players hit the scoring column for Aquinas which shot 41% from the field. Mooney connected on 37% of their shots. In the free throw department the story was different. The Cardinals were accurate 66% of the time while the Irish made only 13 of 26 for a 50% average.

Dan Hogan was outstanding in defeat with 11 points. Jerry Lasponara and Jim Brady rounded out the loser's two-ply scoring with 10 each.

Kearney Upsets McQuaid

Kearney got off top as they went into the halftime period with a 22-19 lead. Early in the 3rd period the Kings moved to a quick 9 point lead. The Knights weren't through yet as they battled to within 6 points as the period ended. They maintained their momentum and jumped to a 5 point lead with just 40 seconds remaining.

Coach Carmen Urzetta decided to play the press as he made his last minute substitutions in an attempt to get the ball. The press led by Kevin Archabald stole the ball several times and enabled the Kings to pull the game out

For A Better

Mexico City — The emphasis that the Church is placing on peaceful evolution to avoid revolution is of particular importance to Latin America, the international director of the Movement for a Better World said here.

The director, Dr. Alonso Vega, is in this country at the request of the Mexican Bishops' Con-

Faith, Morals Division Seen In Colleges

New York—(RNS)—A split between faith and morals, "real, deeply divisive," is the principal cause of religious anxiety and tension among members of the college generation, according to Father Bruce M. Ritter, O.F.M., Conv.

Therefore, the much discussed generation gap "has already become, or is fast becoming, something of a major credibility gap between the faith of this college generation and that of their fathers," he warned.

This conclusion was based on the results of a survey taken among the students at all-male, Roman Catholic Manhattan College here. The school is maintained by the Christian Brothers.

Father Ritter, 40 years old, assistant professor of theology at the college and chairman of its Christian Life Council, said a questionnaire was answered by nearly 3,000 of Manhattan's 3,500 students.

A majority of those responding affirmed belief in a personal God, in the Trinity, in the resurrection of Christ, and in the traditional doctrine of the "real presence."

Conversely, a majority thought it was not wrong to marry outside the Church, and could not accept the traditional Church teaching on artificial contraception, abortion and the infallibility of the Pope.

This indicates, according to Father Ritter, that the college student's "religious confusion and insecurity blisters out of a deep-seated, if reluctant, loyalty to the Church."

A factor in this situation, he said, is the impact of the clergy. Large majorities of those surveyed felt that their bishops and parish priests had no influence on their lives.

Terming this "acute pastoral problem" one of the "most serious problems facing our bishops," Father Ritter noted another ambivalence in the survey's results: overwhelming respect for the vocation of the priest or Brother.

Father Ritter summarized the situation this way:

"It is beyond question that our present Catholic college population * * * almost religiously schizoid in their inability to cope with the split between their doctrinal convictions and their moral uncertainties.

"This generation longs for prophets, but they will itest them first, as our generation did not, as our generation tragically failed to do.

"I do not hear any prophetic voice in our Church speaking to this college generation. It is surely not that of Pope Paul; it is quite clearly not that of the American hierarchy. The great lay leaders have not yet surfaced in what is still a predominantly clerical Church."
