POP TOPICS

Dear Friends,

By the time you read this column, POP Game No. 3 will just about have passed into memory. But take heart, another Game will be starting immediately. If you haven't done as well as you'd hoped, don't be discouraged—just resolve that next time you'll work with renewed effort.

We're delighted at the substantial turn-ins made by so many and pleased too that most of you followed our suggestions for packaging them. Now comes the big job (for us) of sorting, tallying your points, etc., etc. so that it will be a few weeks before we can announce the winners. Of course, every group that made a turn-in will profit... the question is, "Will your group be near the top or the bottom of the list?"

Sunset Pudding

1 pkg. (6 oz.) Royal Strawberry Gelatin
2 cups hot water
2 cups cold water
1 pkg. (4 1/2 oz.) Royal Vanilla Pudding
3 cups milk

Make gelatin as directed on package. Pour into 8x8x2 inch pan. Chill until firm. Cut into 1 inch squares. (Use sharp knife dipped in hot water.) Place in dessert dishes. Make pudding as directed on package using 3 (instead of 2) cups of milk. Cool, stirring frequently. Chill, then pour over chunks of gelatin. Serves 5 or 6.

Pizza Doggies

1 large clove garlic, minced
2 tbl. olive oil
1 can condensed tomato soup
1/4 cup water
2 tbl. chopped parsley
1/2 tsp. leaf oregano
8 Russers Hots, split lengthwise
8 frankfurter buns, split
6 oz. sliced Mozzarella cheese

Cook garlic in olive oil until lightly browned. Add soup, water, parsley and oregano. Cook over low, heat 15 minutes, stirring often. Place buns in large shallow pan. Fill buns with sauce and top with cheese. Place under broiler about 1 minute or until cheese melts.

AT OUR HOUSE

The Valley of Indecision

By Mary Tinely Daly

Being an Aries person, individual 1, 2, 3, selections. Anticipated, not one of our particular win, place or show choices agreed with anybody else's.

"There's three walls in the alcove," Ginny devil-advocated. "We might have Mom's first-choice 'Twinkle' on one, Daddy's 'Brick and Ivy' on another and my 'Summer Harvest' for the third."

"And air our disagreement to all comers? No, thanks. I'll bow out," white-flagged the Head of the House.

I was about to do the same, surrendering to Ginny's "Summer Harvest" when Mr. Webb came along with still another book of samples.

"Knew I'd find you like this," he chuckled. "Never knew any family to agree on wallpaper first time 'round. What you think of this one? I hung it for a lady down the street. Looked great!"

Usually Decisive

"At that first dinner party when the Head of the House and I met, I set my cap for him (as the old-fashioned saying went) and pursued him until he caught me. We bought our house the first weekend we went through it. Ginny chose her college, St. Elizabeth's in Convent Station, with no agitation.

Now, wouldn't you think that people who could choose mates, houses, educational institutions with nary a backward glance of regret could arrive at a happy, mutually agreeable compromise on a simple household decision? Not so.

Of All Things!

The Achilles heel in this instance was wallpaper—wallpaper for the breakfast alcove, of all things!

Mr. Webb, painter-paperhanger, had left his book of samples. Unwaveringly we made our in-

Pink cherubs, golden harps, blue sky and fleecy clouds—in a kitchen?

Time was ripe for Aries, Leo and Libra to quit digging in their heels, renounce all that characteristic individual decisiveness and get with some unanimity of opinion, labor-by-the-hour costs being what they are.

Thanks to St. Anthony, to our guardian angels who must have been in heavenly agreement, or to pure chance, "sample book" two opened smack in the middle. There was our future wallpaper, "Mount Vernon," a three-way first choice.

First dessert served in our little nook should, appropriately, be cherry pie; first smoke, the pipe of peace.

taste that beats the others cold!

We mean it: Pepsi-Cola tastes better cold than other soft drinks taste at the same temperature. We designed Pepsi that way. We created a special taste that comes alive in the cold. Cold temperatures don't numb this taste. It tastes better cold—the colder, the better! But don't take our word—put it to the taste.
