Membership Campaign

Father Francis Turner, pastor of St. Mary's of the Lake Church, Watkins Glen, and Father Raymond Granston, president of the Chemung-Schuyler District Council of Catholic Women plan the group's annual membership campaign to run through the month of April.

Deaths

Rev. A. M. Kreckel

Father Arthur M. Kreckel, a parish priest in the Midwest for 41 years, died March 29 at his home at Lake Geneva, Wis. He had retired in 1966 because of failing health.

Father Kreckel was born in Rochester April 28, 1901, and attended St. Andrew's and St. Bernard's seminaries. He was ordained from St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, for the Diocese of Rockford, Ill.

Survivors include two sisters here, Mrs. W. Frank Martin and Miss Florence M. Kreckel, and several cousins.

James Begley

James Begley, father of Thomas Begley of Latta Rd., died April 2 at his home in County Kerry, Ireland. The funeral was held last Thursday.

John T. O'Hara, Sales Director

John T. O'Hara, retired director and sales representative of Hickey-Freeman Co., Inc., died today after an extended illness.

Mr. O'Hara was born in Chicago in 1895 and was brought to Rochester where he attended the old Cathedral Elementary and High Schools. He joined Hickey-Freeman in 1914 as sales assistant and later was given full responsibility for the New England sales territory. During World War I, Mr. O'Hara served as an aerial photographer in the U.S. Air Force.

He was elected a Hickey-Freeman director in 1953 and continued to develop company business on the West Coast until his retirement December 1961.

Mr. O'Hara leaves his wife Hilda Olsen O'Hara of Rochester, a son John, daughter-in-law Jerry, and four grandchildren.

Discuss War, Church Urged
Berlin (RNS)—Some 200 Roman Catholic laymen in West Germany sent an open letter to the German Catholic bishops urging them to condemn the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam and to encourage a public discussion of the Vietnam war within the Church. The letter asserted that the Church "must take a more outspoken attitude than ever before toward the issue, even if governments keep silent for political considerations."

JOSEPH
Episcopalia

In this column I conclude statements from the open letters sent to each bishop of the Episcopal Church by an Episcopal woman, Mrs. Henry J. Savas Gables, Fla.

Mrs. Savas was shocked by the notion of loosening of abortion adopted by the House of Bishops. She asked whether the Church of Christ is now so decadent that it cannot any longer be concerned over the eternal safety of a fetus. She continues:

"Here is the heart of the matter. Is fetal life precious human life? Is it just a bit of 'glop' that is more value than garbage? It is one or the other. Christian conscience today claims the Christian values embodied in the life, word and dempitive sacrifice of Christ.

"For one, I cannot see how Episcopal statements on abortion can be reconciled with traditional Christian values. Rather, the position as one which confirms the further de-Christianization of the clergy.

"Instead of promoting a milieu in which men and women in the perfection of charity all their neighbors, our bishops to have compromised the

LITURGY

The Meaning
Modern advertising thrives on the principle of repetition. If something often enough, people begin to hear what you are saying.

This principle is capitalizing the Liturgy of Holy Week. One text that threads itself through Holy Week. It occurs in the and in the Office of Holy Week less than 22 times.

This all-pervasive text is a very primitive liturgical hymn used in the Liturgy of Holy Week. They get their name from the verses of Philippians that these verses of Philippians not the original composition of Paul, but rather that they are a very primitive liturgical hymn used in the Liturgy of Holy Week. They get their name from the verses of Philippians that these verses of Philippians not the original composition of Paul, but rather that they are a very primitive liturgical hymn used in the Liturgy of Holy Week.

Holy Week Theme
The words of this apostolic "Christ became obedient to even to death on a cross; for the Son of God has exalted Him above all names so that the name of Jesus Christ is above every name. They get their name from the verses of Philippians that these verses of Philippians not the original composition of Paul, but rather that they are a very primitive liturgical hymn used in the Liturgy of Holy Week.

Arnold T
Pope's Mor
The ancient role of the peace-maker and moral arbiter seen by historian Arnold Toynbee restored and strengthened out the world.

Once again, he says, the symbolizes unity — not mere human unity, and that he has regained the world-wide authority that it exercised in the strictest world of the Middle Ages.

The famed British writer these views in a paper he wrote for the Boston College forum on "The Pope and Peace."

He said that the peace of Pope John XXIII and Pope VI among the powers and glories of the world had won the gratitude of all mankind. He demands "all the energy, persistence, hope and faith with which Pope Paul has dedicated his beneficent task."

He also declared: "Since the beginning of the Aggionment, the see has regained — and throughout the wide world moral authority that, for a period of the Roman Empire, used and exercised within the domain of the Roman see, if say, within the bounds of civilization."

For "unfortunately a rather time" — he said, the temporal power of Europe had been subjected to "non-material" power of the who could place the state un-
