Restriction on Iraqi Jews Reported

Paris — (RNS) — The Iraqi government reportedly has promulgated a new series of measures openly directed against the 2,500 Jews still in Iraq. The European office of the American Jewish Committee disclosed here the latest measures against the remnant of what was once the most flourishing Jewish community in Moslem Middle East.

One new amendment to Iraqi law makes it impossible for "the Jew" to sell or otherwise dispose of any immovable property he may own; to get a mortgage or loan on it, or lease it, without permission from the interior minister.

Another provision orders all government and private offices and businesses not to pay out any sums "due to the Jew" but to notify the minister instead.

Madrid — (RNS) — Three Jesuits, Father Jaime Castineiras, Father Javier Dominguez and Father Fernando Gutierrez, have been acquitted in action brought because of their new book, El Sindicalismo (trade unionism).

The book had been ordered confiscated by the Spanish Information Ministry, apparently on the ground it was subversive. The acquittal verdict, however, stated that the book "did not lead to activities provocative of disobedience to constituted authority and, furthermore, did not make out a case for strikes, which is an offense against the law."

Protestant, Roman Catholic and Orthodox representatives gathered in Beirut to consider how the Churches might work to achieve a fairer distribution of the world's abundance among all people. The Conference on World Cooperation for Development was jointly sponsored by the World Council of Churches and the Pontifical Commission on Justice and Peace. (Religious News Service)

Christians, Marxists Seek Similarities

Prague — (RNS) — Discussions here between religious leaders and Marxist philosophers have led Christian churchmen to the opinion that the aims of Christianity and "real socialism" do not conflict, Prague Radio reported.

Dr. Joseph Hromadka, chairman of the Christian Peace Conference was quoted as saying that Marxism had been much "deformed" over the years but that the history of Christianity also showed "deformations" during certain periods. When both sides take these facts squarely into account, he said, they will stop regarding each other with strong distrust.
