Lake Ave. Building Sold by Cathedral

An old-time "stately mansion" that served the church for 46 years has been sold by Sacred Heart Cathedral parish and leveled to make way for an apartment house at 1356 Lake Ave.

Construction is expected to begin at once.

Very Rev. John S. Hayes, Cathedral rector, outlined a four-point program that he predicted would absorb the more than $40,000 the property yielded.

The rambling, Victorian house on Lake Avenue at Clay has served at various times as parish rectory, convent for the St. Joseph sisters at the nearby parish school, and living quarters for the first Basilian Fathers and Jesuits who came here as high school teachers. Between times and lately it has served as a meeting place for cathedral parish groups.

Father Hayes told his people last Sunday that the sale could finance an "outreach" program that would be more than a "taken response" to the needs of the poor. Priority will be given, however, to a fire protection system the Fire Department has designed for the aging, parochial school buildings.

Debt reduction also is contemplated, and Father Hayes proposes to build, within the cathedral, at minimum cost, "the Blessed Sacrament Chapel" that present day liturgical modes require.

Ben DiFiore, the buyer, described the proposed apartment

Aquinas Needs Win To Even Record

Aquinas' "up-and-down" baseball club is looking for a victory to bring its season average up to .500. The Irish have won three and lost four.

They opened the season with a come from behind 8-4 victory over Jefferson and then ran into pitching trouble to suffer a 10-3 defeat by Marshall. On May 25, Aquinas met Charlotte and stunned the Lakesiders. Sophomore Rich Russo struck out 16 batters. Doug Miller contributed a second inning homer to lead the Irish to a 4-1 victory.

Jefferson took revenge on Aquinas on their home field. 4-3. John Nazarro accounted for all of Aquinas' runs with a three-run homer over the right field fence.

The Irish opened their defense of the Catholic League title by downing Bishop Kearney 7-0. Doug Miller tripled and singled, each time with the bases loaded, accounting for five runs.

Aquinas then lost to East Rochester, 5-1 and McQuaid, 6-5. Aquinas' only run in the E.R. game was scored on Rich D'Ettore's single in the fifth inning. Last Sunday Aquinas outpitched McQuaid 12-7 but lost the game on three costly errors. Rich D'Ettore homered with one aboard in the fifth inning. Mike Aguglia was 3-4 while driving in three runs.

Prelate Addresses United Methodists

Dallas — (RNS) — Archbishop John J. Carberry of St. Louis told United Methodists here that had Methodism originated with in the Catholic tradition it might have resulted in the establishment of a religious order.

"Methodism has at times been compared to the Franciscan movement and order and its founder, John Wesley, has been compared to the little poor man of Assisi," the Roman-Catholic leader said.

"Thoughtful Catholics have been heartened by the Methodist participation in the ecumenical movement and the Consultation on Church Union, recognizing that Methodism brings with it a deep concern for the role of the Holy Spirit in the church, the spiritual life and holiness among the members of the church, and an awareness of grace."

New Lease on Life For Parish School

The almost-closed parochial school of Most Precious Blood parish has been given a new lease on life, thanks to the determination of the parishioners.

A joint statement issued by Catholic Schools superintendent Monsignor William M. Roche and Richard Triano, president of the Precious Blood school board, stated that the school would "enter into a period of intensive reevaluation and interpretation" for a period of one year. The statement was made late Wednesday night after a meeting at the school's office involving the superintendent and the school board.

The decision climaxed a month long campaign on the part of Precious Blood parishioners to reverse a decision to close their four room school in June. Basis of the move, communicated to the pastor, Father Sebastian Contegiacomo on April 4, was the "sub-standard" quality of education now available at the Stenson St. school.

The school had been running eight grades in four classrooms.

Monsignor Roche noted that present diocesan policy was to eliminate double-grade programs.

The big decision climaxed a month of letter writing and peaceful demonstrations carried on by the Precious Blood parishioners. During that time, they picketed the Pastoral Office, Sacred Heart Cathedral and last Sunday, Becket Hall was being dedicated by Bishop Sheen — all in an effort to carry their case into the public forum.
