In the eighth, Kevin McGurran's drive to left went for a three-base error, and he scored the deciding run on a passed ball.

The Tigers won the league Championship after defeating the Athletics in a best of three series. The Athletics captured the playoff crown. Bring Mass To Senior Citizens

The Knights of Columbus of Rochester have embarked upon a program to bring Mass to the thousands of senior citizens in over 40 nursing homes in the area.

According to Faithful Navigator Raymond Neary, the idea originated in the Webster-Penfield area, where the priests assisted by local Knights are offering Mass twice each month at the Hill Haven Nursing Home on Empire Blvd.

Working closely with Bishop Sheen and Father John Steger, K of C Spiritual Advisor, the local contingent of Knights hopes to be able to encourage and assist priests to say Mass on a regular basis at nursing homes. Knights are responsible for seeing that the necessary arrangements for Masses are made, as well as setting up and cleaning up after Mass.

Neary said that the group hopes to effect such a program in six to eight more nursing homes.

Zweigle's Buys Schrader's Meats

Zweigle's Inc., has purchased the manufacturing plant of Schrader's Meat Products, Inc., 651 Plymouth Ave. N.

Robert H. Berl, Zweigle's president, explained that the acquisition includes the Schrader real estate, the manufacturing plant, property and plant equipment. It does not include the purchase of the Schrader meat products business or Dutch Maid Brand meat products.

Berl further stated that this move is in accordance with Zweigle's expansion policy, to enable Zweigle's to meet the increasing demand for their meat products.

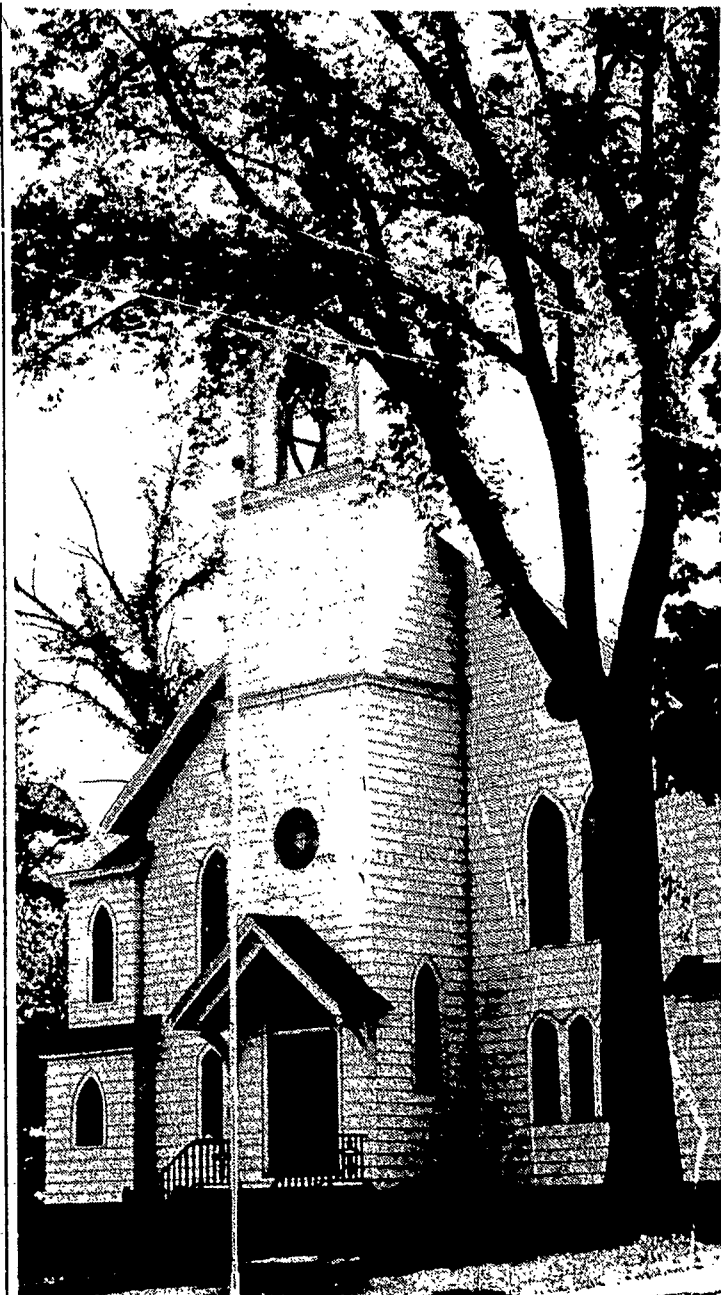

The Zweigle company was originally at Joseph Avenue and Kelly Street. In 1956, Zweigle's was purchased by Robert H. Berl, grandson of the founder.

St. Joseph's Church, Rush

St. Joseph's Rush, Gets Resident Pastor

St. Joseph's, Rush, has finally acquired a resident pastor, Father Raymond Kenny, the first His address is 2024 Rush-Mendon Rd.

He was appointed in June, but only lately found a rectory — a six-room, suburban ranch-style house near the Victorian-Gothic country-style church that was built in 1881. His address is 2024 Rush-Mendon Rd.

The church, on the Rush-Avon Road, stands on the site that the Irish farmers of the town bought for $500 in 1864.

(Once it had a room for the confession-Saturday priest, and a shed for his horse.)

The church has been well maintained through its 87 years, and is in good condition, Father Kenny said. The congregation of about 175 families is well organized, he added, and soon will start to form a parish council.

Meanwhile, Father Kenny is working out something that only a resident pastor can provide — a regular schedule of daily Masses.

In the Courier-Journal's school supplement last week, we incorrectly stated that the tuition at Notre Dame High School, Elmira is $500. The total tuition, after the $100 increase, is in reality only $300.

Peace and Order Not the Same

Winona, Minn. — (RNS) — Catholics have too long "tended to equate peace-making with order-keeping," delegates to an area convention of the Christian Family Movement were told at St. Mary's College here.

Writer Mary Perkins Ryan said that "peace" in the Bible's usage means not simply the absence of disorder and violence, but the positive achievement of full human living in community.

Books

TUNE IN TO GOD — Robert Guelluy. (Desclee; $4.50)

The heart of a man is ever tempted to sanctify, ever seeking solace, which it finds only in God Who is love. We are God's ransomed children, fashioned in His own image, redeemed by and risen with His Son—in, with and through whom we say "Our Father." Ours has been called the lonely generation: man has lost the sense of salvation more than the sense of sin; he has forgotten that he is loved and that his loneliness can only be banished by loving. That is why this work is so salutary; it will bring many of us to a new vision of the Christian life and what it is all about. Those who believe, falter in belief or no longer believe will find in this sensitive work an invitation and a promise.

BAPTISM IN THE THOUGHT OF ST. PAUL — Rudolf Schnackenburg. (Herder & Herder; $6.50)

This book on the sacrament of Baptism written by a Catholic biblical scholar, and translated and revised under the direction of a Baptist professor of New Testament exegesis, is one of the clearest signs of the growth and maturing of the ecumenical movement. But it is more than merely a sign. It is a direct expression of the fact that Christians of all persuasions can find their basis for ultimate reunion on the common ground of the scriptures. The entire work stands as a landmark of the new biblical theology; it is rigorous scientific in its linguistic analyses and textual interpretations, and it is profoundly Catholic in its religious insights.

SERVANTS OF THE LORD — Karl Rahner. (Herder & Herder; $4.95)

In this very personal book Karl Rahner, who has remained at heart a humble, understanding priest throughout his scholarly career, speaks of the greatness and burden of the priesthood in our time. Among the many subjects that Father Rahner addresses himself to are the meaning of ecclesiastic office, "demythologizing" the priesthood, the reality of faith, Christ and obedience, love of the Sacred Heart, the possibilities of the spirit of change in the Church, and the celibacy of the secular priest.

IS THE LAST SUPPER FINISHED — Arthur Vogel (Sheed and Ward; $4.50)

One of the most ironic aspects of the ecumenical movement is that the Eucharist, the sign and agent of Christian unity, has become too often a sign and agent of disunity. For many Christians the Lord's Supper is finished. For others, it is, indeed, a sacred meal, but one intended only for their own spiritual sustenance. Too few Christians realize that the Eucharist is an unfinished sacred meal with ineradicable secular consequences. This is the theme which Arthur Vogel handles with insight and originality in the pages of this book.
