

Priest Vocations To Be Spotlited At Serra Meeting

Vocations to the priesthood will be spotlighted in Rochester next week at the two-day annual convention of Serra /International Clubs of New York State.

Bishop Fulton J. Sheen will address the convalescence opening dinner at 7:30 p.m. Friday, Oct. 25, in the Midtown Plaza Hotel.

Approximately 75 delegates are expected from Serra clubs in Buffalo, Syracuse, Watertown and Ogdensburg, as well as observers from other parts of the state.

Serra, a business and professional laymen's organization founded in Seattle, Wash., in 1934 and dedicated to fostering priestly vocations, organized a Rochester club in 1961.

Saturday's convention sessions will be held at Becket Hall. Father Louis J. Hohman, rector, who also is chairman of the Rochester club, will celebrate Mass at 12 noon. Father Lawrence J. Murphy, spiritual director of Becket Hall, will address the delegate luncheon.

Two panels will feature the Saturday afternoon program. One panel, titled "Vocations from the College Campus," will include four Newman Club chaplains - Fathers Gerald Appely, John L. Hedges, Thomas R. Statt and Christopher J. Trovato. Serran Charles F. Mulligan will be moderator.

Four St. Bernard's seminarians will participate in a second panel, discussing "The Priesthood of Our Future." Serran John Greisberger will moderate.

Father Albert P. Bartlett, S. J., rector of McQuaid Jesuit High School, will speak at the closing dinner at 7:30 p.m. Saturday in Midtown. Thomas J. Hart, Buffalo, a Serra area trustee, will give a convention summation.

Dr. James T. Toney is host chairman of the convention. Officers of the Rochester club are: William R. Noonan Jr., president; Philip DiPasquale, first vice president; Arthur J. Tierney, second vice president; Louis J. Teall, treasurer; Charles F. Mulligan, secretary.

Mrs. Toney and Mrs. Noonan have arranged a program for delegates' wives, including a visit to Rochester's new Planetarium.

The Rochester club has 35 members.

CYO President Wins Jr. Chamber Award

Thomas P. Riley, 334 Seneca Pkwy., Rochester, president of the Catholic Youth Organization, last week received a distinguished service award from the New York State Junior Chamber of Commerce.

He was one of five "outstanding young men of the year" chosen throughout the state for "total involvement in community activities." Riley, 30, is a district plant superintendent for the Rochester Telephone Corp. Among his activities:

Board of directors, Park Avenue Hospital; president, Princeton Club of Rochester; secretary, Aquinas Alumni Association; board of directors, Health Association of Monroe County.

He was formerly president of the Monroe County Pop Warner Football League, a district chairman of the Community Chest campaign, vice-chairman of the organization and extension committee of the Boy Scouts, and participated in activities for Junior Chamber, Red Cross and Maplewood Neighborhood Association.

He received his master's degree in business and public administration from Cornell University. He and his wife, Mary Ann, have three children.

Virginia Croston Appointed to National Post

Erie, Pa.—Miss Virginia A. Croston, formerly of Rochester, N.Y., has been appointed national recorder of the Ladies' Catholic Benevolent Association.

Miss Croston had been active in the LCBA in the Rochester Diocese for many years before moving to Erie in 1964 to serve as national treasurer.

She is a graduate of the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Rochester, and the Rochester City Normal School. After teaching for three years she became a medical secretary at Strong Memorial Hospital in Rochester and was a medical technician for the American Red Cross program and for Dr. Gerome Glaser, widely-known allergist.

Eastman Music At Gallery Sunday

Artist-professors and their star pupils at the Eastman School of Music will present a series of free concerts on alternate Sundays at the Memorial Art Gallery, beginning this Sunday, Oct. 20, at 3 p.m.

Two pianos and a vocal quartet will be heard in Brahms' Liebeslieder Waltzes at the opening concert. Also on the program is Mozart's F. Major Quartet for Oboe and Strings. Performers will include faculty members Frank Glazer, Anastasia Jemlits and Allan Harris.

CENACLE RETREAT LEAGUE

Father Albert J. Bartlett, rector of McQuaid Jesuit High School, will address the Rochester Cenacle-Retreat League at dinner this Sunday night in the Notre Dame Retreat House, Canandaigua.

Msr. Joseph L. Hogan, pastor of St. Margaret Mary's, will be principal celebrant at 5 p.m. Mass.

Aquinas, McQuaid Clash Sunday

By WHIT JOHNSON
Aquinas Institute opens defense of its Diocesan football championship Sunday afternoon at Aquinas-Memorial Stadium when the Little Irish host the Knights of McQuaid Jesuit High School. Game time is set for 2 p.m.

The Black Knights appear to be the favorites following the outcome of games played by each school last weekend and the overall record. Aquinas suffered a 34-0 loss at the hands of East High in Erie, Pa. while McQuaid subdued a strong Whitesboro eleven, 14-7. The Irish are 1 and 3 on the season while the Knights sport a 3 and 1 record.

McQuaid, which has 18 let-among the juniors, including termen back from last season, has been getting stronger each week. Big Bob Baker and Roger Brock, both over 200 pounds, hold down the tackle positions. Bob Schiller and Nick Combs are fleet-footed ends. Pat Thomson at center has seen considerable action for the past two seasons. Coach Tom Seymour has found excellent material running backs John Springer and John Pignato.

Aquinas, pressured by three Pennsylvania teams in as many move the ball. We know that," said Bill Brabender, the Warriors' head coach. "We knew we'd beat 'em. All we wondered was whether our defense could hold 'em."

The defense not only held Aquinas when necessary, it made the big plays, an interception and six fumble recoveries which set in motion a scoring barrage, the likes of which the Irish have not seen in many a day.

Last year the Irish nipped the Knights, 18-13. In fact, only once since the series started has McQuaid won. That was in 1964 with a 14-13 verdict.

Knights Capture 3rd in Row

By TIM BERGIN
A stingy defense and a steady ground attack netted McQuaid's Knights their third victory in four tries last Saturday before a crowd of 1,000 at McQuaid in a 14-7 decision over Whitesboro.

The Utica area club had won 14 of its last 15 games, including a 39-14 romp over McQuaid last year. Defeating the Warriors sends McQuaid into its annual rivalry with the Little Irish of Aquinas determined to end Aquinas's 3-year domination of the series. The two meet at 2 p.m. Sunday in Aquinas Stadium.

Using the pass sparingly against Whitesboro, the Knights piled up 218 yards rushing, as speedy tailback Mark Welt accounted for 103 yards in 30 carries and fullback John Quinlisk added 9 more in 17 attempts.

Meanwhile, the Warriors could not penetrate McQuaid's front four of Denny Ryan, Roger Brock, Bob Baker, and Bob Schiller for only 46 yards.

The Knights displayed their punch the first time they got the ball, driving 57 yards before stalling on the Whitesboro 1. Following a poor punt, McQuaid regained possession on the 16, and on fourth down quarterback Gary Gianforti fired a 14-yard scoring strike to end John Oravec. Welt took a pitchout for the point after, making it 7-0.

Receiving the kickoff in the third period, McQuaid runners battered their way for 72 yards in 15 plays with Quinlisk finally springing from the 1. Gianforti drilled a jump pass to end Nick Combs for the extra point, upping the lead to 14-0.

Midway through the final quarter, Whitesboro recovered a McQuaid fumble on the hosts' 35 and eight plays later Gary Sadlik scooted 9 yards for his team's only touchdown. Rich Haard's run for the point made it 14-7.

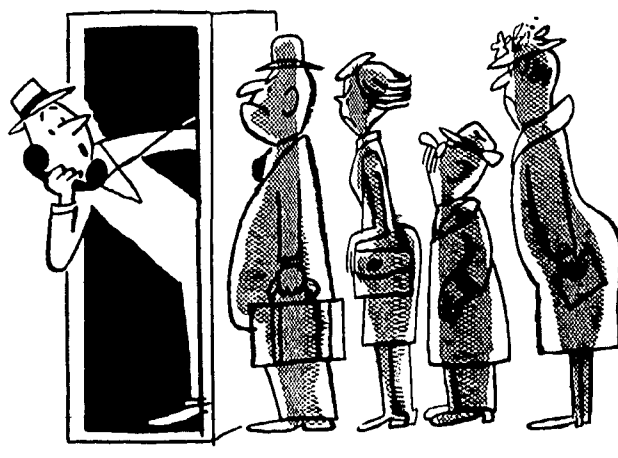

It was a losing weekend for McQuaid's Gridders on other levels. The J.V. squad suffered its first loss, 18-6, at the hands of Madison, and the frosh went down, 26-0, against Cardinal McNulty.

Kearney Booters In Two Victories

Bishop Kearney's soccer team continued its win streak last week with two non-league victories, downing Webster, 3-1, and Monroe, 3-0. Their record now is eight wins and one loss.

Against Webster, Rick Eichner opened the scoring at 10:35 of the first quarter assisted by Dan Mahrer and Paul Williams. In the second quarter Eichner again scored at 1:50 while Paul Williams and Ray D'Agostino received assists. Rocky Meyers headed in a goal at 6:26 of the same period as Rogers sent the ball in front of the net for Meyers. Webster's Leiberner made a penalty kick goal in the third quarter. Bishop Kearney goalie Len Schantz was credited with 17 saves.

Monroe's goalie fumbled the ball on a save and Meyers charged through and scored the game winner at 10:40 of the first quarter. Meyers, assisted by Dan Mahrer and Larry Rogers, tallied another goal at 4:10 of the third quarter. Rick Eichner beat Monroe's goalie for the third goal at 10:20 once again assisted by Mahrer and Rogers.
