At King's Prep - A Day of Probing

On Friday, Nov. 15, King's Prep suspended its academic activities for the day to conduct an experiment in "Christian Awareness."

The theme was taken from Dag Hammarskjöld's prayer, "If only I may grow firmer, quieter, simpler, warmer."

For one full school day the students watched films, heard popular "message" music, and engaged in discussion with representatives from many social service agencies in the Rochester area.

According to Franklin Kamp, dean of studies, the purpose of the day was "to learn more about the problems and needs of others, and to consider new ways of helping them."

Thanksgiving Message

Ask God's Help, LBJ Advises

Washington, D.C. — (RNS) — President Johnson said here that on Thanksgiving Day, Americans may be more inclined to ask God's mercy and guidance than to offer thanks for blessing.

In proclaiming Nov. 28 as official day of Thanksgiving, the President termed 1968 a year of "tumultuous events."

He declared, however, that there is much in the year for which the U.S. can be thankful.

He asked the American people to offer thanks to God and to "resolve to offer Him the best that is within us — tolerance, respect for life, faith in the destiny of all men to live in peace."

The full text of the Presidential Proclamation follows.

"Americans, looking back on the tumultuous events of 1968, may be more inclined to ask God's mercy and guidance than to offer Him thanks for his blessings.

"There are many events in this year that deserve our remembrance, and give us cause for thanksgiving.

"The endurance and stability of our democracy, as we prepare once more for an orderly transition of authority.

"The renewed determination, on the part of millions of Americans, to bridge our divisions.

"Now, therefore, I, Lyndon B. Johnson, President of the United States of America, in consonance with Section 6103 of Title 5 of the United States Code designating the fourth Thursday of November in each year as Thanksgiving Day, do hereby proclaim Thursday, Nov. 28, 1968, as a day of national thanksgiving.

"The beginning of talks with our adversaries, that will, we pray, lead to peace in Vietnam.

"The increasing prosperity of our people, including those who were denied any share in America's blessings in the past.

"The achievement of new breakthroughs in medical science, and new victories over disease.

These events inspire not only the deepest gratitude, but confidence that our nation, the beneficiary of good fortune beyond that of any nation in history, will surmount its present trials and achieve a more just society for its people.

"In this reason, let us offer more than words of thanksgiving to God. Let us resolve to offer Him the best that is within us — tolerance, respect for life, faith in the destiny of all men to live in peace.

shows us we can do something now."

"We try to keep the day somewhat unstructured," said Kamp.

"The different programs going on at one time give the students the chance to engage in dialogue about programs in which they are interested."

"I wish we could have more of this kind of activity," said Kathy Barrett, a senior at King's Prep. "I think it's very important to talk about these issues that are all around us."

Present also were a number of guests who have been active in community apostolic projects, whose purpose it was to spur discussion among the students in off moments. Among guests were about 20 students from other Catholic high schools.

"It's a blitzkrieg of Christianity," remarked one student. Having all these people here really shows us we can do something now."

Team of Priests Mulls for Ghetto

Rockville Centre, N.Y. — (RNS) — Priests in the Catholic Diocese of Rockville Centre will consider the formation of teams of clergy to work in ghetto areas.

The Priests' Advisory Council approved a "day of consultation" when the question of structuring the diocesan racial involvement will be discussed in detail. At that time, the responsibility and function of "Township Teams," groups of approximately 30 priests each working in areas of interracial concern, will be formulated.

Courier-Journal — F Paris! The pastoral office define this week the boundaries of two new parishes, west of Rochester that were established last June. They are north and west of Holy Ghost parish, which date from 1875. The boundaries are imaginary lines, for the most part, rather than roads. St. Jude's, directly north of Holy Ghost, in Gates, is bounded on the west by Gillette Road. Its southeast corner touches the northeast corner of Holy Ghost.

Vote on Me London — (RNS) — A revised timetable postponing for another two months a final vote on a merger of the Church of England and the Methodist Church was presented to the Convocation of Canterbury here. A similar presentation was made to the York Convocation.
