McQuaid Rips Edison In Cage Opener

by TIM BERGIN

A promising McQuaid basketball squad hurdled the first stumbling block of its tough schedule last Saturday night by roaring past a visiting Edison Tech team, 70-47.

The Knights, moving the ball well against Edison's zone defense, hit a sharp 46 per cent from the floor, sank all eight of their foul shots, and dominated both boards as they led almost all the way.

Nick Combs, 6-4 senior center, grabbed the individual spotlight by meshing 12 field goals in 24 attempts and hauling down 14 rebounds. Senior guard John Connolly and junior Tom Combs also finished in double figures with 16 and 13 points.

McQuaid raced off to a 17-11 advantage as Nick Combs and Connolly each hit three buckets. Hot shooting by John Dawkins and Jim Everett produced an Edison spurt late in the second quarter and narrowed the gap at half to 33-28. But the Inventors could manage only six points against McQuaid's sticky man-to-man in the third stanza as the Knights pulled to a 44-34 lead. In the final eight minutes, the Knights penetrated Edison's zone and turned the game into a rout with 28 points, including five field goals by Nick Combs.

McQuaid's junior varsity also won behind 18 points by Tom Patterson and 10 by Bernie Knaut 44-36.

This weekend the Knights travel to West on Saturday night in their last competition before a home game against Aquinas on Dec. 20.

Aquinas 5 Wins First

BY WHIT JOHNSON

The Jerry McGuire-coached Aquinas Institute quintet traveled to East Rochester last Wednesday evening to register a 50-43 victory in its opening campaign of the young basketball season.

Sparked by the scoring of Jerry Sussina and Jerry Laspomara and the all-around play of Bill Murray, the Irish had to come from behind to win. East Rochester, always a tough team, also was making its season debut.

High scorer for Aquinas was Sussina with 18 points. Laspomara and Murray, both seniors, contributed 15 and 10 points, respectively. Bill Woodard pulled down 10 rebounds for the Dewey Avenue boys.

Ross Brothers of East Rochester took scoring honors with 23 points.

In the curtain raiser the East Rochester juniors defeated the Aquinas yearlings, 40-37.

Tonight Aquinas travels toodus to inaugurate a new series between the Irish and the Sodas Central School. Saturday Aquinas renews a rivalry with Charlotte High School on the Lake-siders' court. The Aquinas freshman team opens tonight against the Orientals of East High.

Catholic Request Shelved by CWC

The Catholic Football League's request to join the Central Western Conference has been shelved for a year.

Ed Nietopski, athletic director at Cardinal Mooney High School and president of the Rochester Catholic High School Athletic Association, said that the CL's entry into the CWC would be a major advancement which would solve the CL's No. 1 problem and help upgrade scholastic football in the Rochester area.

Nietopski also said that the four Rochester Catholic high schools face "drastic alternatives" if they do not receive help from the CWC.

Last season Aquinas had only seven games and this year Bishop Kearney could only schedule six. The state sets eight as a limit, and all city and public schools fill a full slate.

Nietopski said: "We're all in the same business. We try to improve our programs. We all want what's best for the students. Regardless of where a kid comes from, public or Catholic school, he should be treated fairly."

Aquinas-McQuaid Shifting Site

The annual holiday basketball game between Aquinas Institute and McQuaid Jesuit High School will be played at McQuaid rather than at the War Memorial on Dec. 20.

The site of the game, which had drawn large, enthusiastic crowds including alumni of both schools, was changed because of lagging attendance, according to a spokesman.

The series will continue on a home-and-home basis with Aquinas using the RIT court when it is host.
