

Scenes at Bishop Hogan Ordination, Nov. 28, 1969

Mgr. Hogan lies prostrate before Cathedral altar during chanting of Litany of Saints, moments before imposition of the Consecrators' hands ordained him as Bishop. Kneeling at left is Principal Consecrator, Archbishop Raimondi (center), with Archbishop Sheen (in foreground) and Bishop Casey. Kneeling at prie dieu in rear of photo is Terence Cardinal Cooke of New York.

Bishop Hogan (left) receives hands-on-shoulders Kiss of Peace from Auxiliary Bishop Dennis Hickey after installation ceremony.

Archbishop Fulton
at farewell receipt in Columbus Civi chael C. Hogan, v retary since th

New Bishop Hogan waves to crowd outside Cathedral. From left are Archbishop Raimondi and Terence Cardinal Cooke.

Neighbor prelates for 30 years, retired Bishop James E. Kearney (left) of Rochester and Bishop Walter A. Foery of Syracuse were co-consecrators of Bishop Hogan. Bishop Foery, a former priest, of the Rochester Diocese, was consecrated a Bishop here in 1937.

Bishop Hogan Ordination photos by Father Henry Atwell, Louis Ouzar, T.
Gordon Massacra and Arthur Faren.

Brotherly smiles show the joyful spirit between new Bishop Joseph L. Hogan (left) and his brother, Father Michael C. Hogan, as latter extends congratulations.

Bishop Hogan greets his 84-year-old mother, Mrs. Mary Slaw Hogan, at front pew after giving her his first blessing as a bishop.

Bishop Kearney, imposing hands on new Bishop Hogan, stands in same place and almost same spot in Sacred Heart Cathedral where he also imposed hands to ordain Father Hogan to the priesthood June 6, 1942.

Book of the Gospels was placed on head and shoulders of new Bishop to symbolize burden of carrying Word of God to his people.

Profiles of Ar (right) standing during the

Terence Cardinal
imposes ha