

City Cites Kearney High for Playground Party Help

It was a neat Hallowe'en trick to pull $265 out of Kearney kids' pockets for playground party treats. Here, Kathy Smith, who started the hastily organized fund drive, accepts the Rochester Recreation Bureau's Certificate of Merit for the school. With her at the formal presentation last week were, from the left, Brother Edward M. Tracey, CFC., principal of Bishop Kearney High School; Robert E. Dispanza, city recreation director; Tom Roth and Sister Carla Marie. Several students helped run the Hallowe'en parties.

Christmas Appeal Made for Lepers

Father Joseph Reinhart, diocesan director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, has opened the annual Christmas appeal for lepers by recounting his recent visit to the Marie Adelaide Leprosy Center in Karachi, West Pakistan.

Catholics of the diocese are asked each year to help support such places.

"You cannot imagine the suffering caused by Hansen's Disease (leprosy)," Father Reinhart said, as he leafed through a small book describing the center and recalling his visit there.

"Even after having been treated by the professionals at Marie Adelaide, many leave with the scars of their disease for life. Some have lost fingers or toes or facial features and cannot find self-supporting work. Others feel the discrimination of their community or family and hate to go home," he said. One of the major programs at the center is for the "cured" patient.

"The answer to the problem of readjustment to society after leprosy lies in physical and vocational rehabilitation programs," the priest explained. "Plastic surgery can eliminate scars and rebuild bones and muscles... (he leaned back in his chair and threw the little booklet on his desk) but there just isn't the money. Or the personnel."

Father Reinhart cited Dr. Howard Rusk of the New York University Medical Center who reported that programs in rehabilitation are being developed in several leproseries under the direction of Catholic missionaries.

"Such great potential lies in their dedication, but the support necessary to make these programs a reality is lacking," Dr. Rusk has said. Suddenly, Father Reinhart looked up. "Ask the people to let a leper out-patient into their homes," he pleaded. "Home, home, where the heart is."

The Propagation of the Faith presently supports more than 400 leproseries and clinics around the world, Father said.

He gave these figures: $500 will outfit a mobile clinic; $250 provides a classroom in a leproseries; $100 builds a home after a cure; $50 buys surgical instruments; and as little as $3 will supply the needed sulfone drugs for one year.

Checks may be sent to: Father Joseph Reinhart, Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 50 Chestnut St., Rochester, N.Y., 14604.

At Mt. Carmel

Spanish Festival Held

Songs and dances, seasoned with guitars and maracas, featured a nearly three-hour festival for Rochester's Spanish-speaking community Sunday afternoon, Dec. 7, in Our Lady of Mt. Carmel School.

Activities included traditional staging of the first Christmas, with manger (and angels) scene, dances of Puerto, readings of Christmas poems and distribution of bags of candy to children by the three Wise Men.

They distributed gifts, served refreshments and sang carols in the dining hall, and visited residents who were confined to their rooms. Carl Petrosino of Auburn played Santa Claus. Clifford Pinkney of Auburn was chairman. Faculty and students contributed $126 for the event.

Displaying a bit of Christmas cheer, Spanish style, the program was planned not only as entertainment but also as a means to demonstrate and preserve Spanish heritage and culture.

Detroit Studies Lay Distribution Of Communion

Detroit — (NC) — A committee to determine if Detroit Catholics wish to receive Holy Communion has been appointed here.

Father Patrick Cooney, director of the Detroit archdiocese's department of worship, said the practice "may or may not be found suitable, or may be recommended only for restricted use. It is not likely to be made mandatory, as is the reinstatement of the ancient custom that requires the faithful publicly to voice faith in the Eucharist before taking Communion. This is done by replying 'amen' to the priest's declaration that the Communion bread is 'The Body of Christ.'"

Confrontation

CCD for Teenagers

By JOAN ZUMMO

The age-old problem of reaching teenagers with religious education programs is one of the major issues discussed at the CCD Office.

That new programs, recommendations, suggestions and all the rest are worthwhile can be verified only when they are tested and evaluated. It is for this reason that Confrontation and the CCD Office are requesting the assistance of all parish high school programs in the diocese to give us feedback on the present programs. We have to see where we have been and where we have yet to go.

Statistics indicate that of the over 40,000 high school age Catholics in the Diocese of Rochester just over 10,000 were enrolled in CCD programs. That means that about 17,000 Catholic teenagers were receiving no religious education last year.

The questions that these statistics raise are innumerable. The Diocesan CCD Office listed some of them in its newsletter. "Why are high school students coming or not coming to CCD programs? How well do we know the student? What can we do to better understand him and the influences on his life? Is the CCD class an adequate vehicle? Does each parish need a variety of programs to meet its variety of students? Do we have anything worth saying to high school students?"

As a way to begin answering these questions and others the CCD Office recommends a concerted effort toward a Diocese-wide dialogue on questions pertaining to religious formation of teenagers.

Specific suggestions from the CCD Office include the following: "Let pastors personally speak with and listen to high school students who are not attending CCD; let teachers admit searching for better programs, and informing their students and soliciting their help; let high school CCD principals and CCD boards (where they exist) start dialogue with parents, students, parish priests and teachers. Let students accept and act on their own responsibility to help in the planning and execution of programs designed for them."

Let the office hear about your efforts at dialogue; invite our staff members to participate in your parish or area dialogue to review materials or integrate them into existing programs.

Not only does the CCD Office invite written or spoken suggestions in this area, but also this column will gladly air suggestions and comments, and is especially interested in sharing successful ideas and programs in individual parishes.

Contact the column through the Confederation of Christian Doctrine Office.

8 half-cup servings
1 1/2 quarts DAIRYLEA Egg Nog
1 quart DAIRYLEA Lime Sherbet
Maraschino cherries
Pour chilled egg nog into a small punch bowl. Add thoroughly-drained maraschino cherries. Top with scoops of lime sherbet. Serve immediately. An unusual combination of flavors your family and guests will enjoy.

NOT CHOCOLATE EGG NOG
12 half-cup servings
1 quart DAIRYLEA Egg Nog
1/2 cup Chocolate syrup or 4 tablespoons of cocoa dissolved in 1/2 cup of milk
2 cups DAIRYLEA Milk
Miniature marshmallows
Heat egg nog, milk and chocolate syrup just to simmering point. Serve in your prettiest cups topped with tiny marshmallows and a dash of nutmeg.

BANANA NOG
1 serving
1 ripe banana, sliced
1/2 cup cold DAIRYLEA Egg Nog
1/2 cup cold DAIRYLEA Milk
Whisk ingredients in blender until frothy.
How the kids will love this when they come home from school! (Add how about one for yourself on those busy days when you "don't have time to stop for lunch"?)

STRAWBERRY NOG FROSTED FLOAT

HOLIDAY TREATS

CLOUD-9 EGG NOG PIE
5 or 6 servings
1-8 Inch Gingersnap Crumb Crust**
8 oz. package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 cup boiling water
1/2 pint DAIRYLEA Vanilla Ice Cream
1/4 cup Dairylea Egg Nog
1/4 teaspoon Rum-flavoring
To prepare crust: Heat oven to 350°. Combine 1 cup finely-rolled gingersnap crumbs with 1/4 cup melted butter. Pat firmly into bottom and sides of pie pan. Bake 10 minutes. Cool before filling.
Filling: In large size mixer bowl, dissolve gelatin in boiling water. Add ice cream, a spoonful at a time, stirring until melted. Chill until mixture begins to thicken (about 5 minutes).
Add egg nog and rum-flavoring. Beat at medium speed until light and fluffy. Pour into pie shell; chill until firm, about 3 hours. Garnish at serving time with Dairylea Whipped Cream or Dairylea Instant Whipped Cream and maraschino cherries. (Frosted.)
**or use crumbled coconut cookies or graham crackers

FLUFFY EGG NOG PUDDING
4 servings
4-ounce package instant pudding mix (either vanilla or chocolate)
1/2 cup DAIRYLEA Egg Nog
1/2 cup DAIRYLEA Whipping Cream
Rum or Brandy flavoring (optional)
Whirl Dairylea Egg Nog and pudding mix in blender until thickened. Fold in whipped cream. Serve chilled in your prettiest glass dishes.
Quick and yummy. For those busy days when "there's no time to cook."

EGG NOG SAUCE
5 half-cup servings
1 egg separated
1 cup DAIRYLEA Egg Nog
1/2 cup DAIRYLEA Whipping Cream
1 1/2 tablespoons sugar
In heavy saucepan or top of double boiler, combine egg yolk with 2 tablespoons egg nog; blend well. Stir in remaining egg nog. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thickened. Cool to room temperature. Fold in whipped cream.
Beat egg white until foamy. Add sugar; continue beating until stiff. Fold into egg nog mixture. Chill. Spoon over gelatin, plain or fruited, or slices of Christmas fruitcake. A great way to use up left-over cake, too. Delicious and versatile.
