Plan Annual Postal Employee Mass

Bishop Hogan confers with officers of Rochester Post Office Holy Name Society on plans for society's 20th annual Mass which Bishop will celebrate Mar. 1 at St. Joseph's Church, Franklin Street, and for following breakfast at Midtown Tower Restaurant at which Bishop will speak. Pictured are society's outgoing president, Anthony J. Giambone (left), and incoming president, Anthony D'Elemeinte.

Memos From Office of Human Concern

MEMO to Father Brent, Superintendent of Schools:

Our office was most pleased to see your letter in reference to the stand of the schools of office on Superintendent Goldberg's plan for quality integrated education in the public school system. The projected evaluation of similar questions within our own system is a very timely idea. Bishop Hogan is to be congratulated for his forthright stand on this issue. Surely, to make this decision was most difficult for both you and the Bishop, considering the opposition that this plan has met. However, the stand both you and the Bishop indicates that the Church's leadership is conscious of its moral responsibility.

MEMO to the 7th and 8th graders of Our Lady of Lourdes School, Rochester:

Your project to collect canned goods for the disadvantaged, especially those in the rural areas is most appreciated. If you were personally experiencing some of the problems we have in our work, you would understand even more so, how much your efforts have accomplished.

MEMO to Rev. Richardson, Methodist Church, Penn Yan:

I appreciated the opportunity to address your Lenten ecumenical luncheon last week. Catholic involvement appears to be increasing. It was a good opportunity to indicate how a rural county has been willing to undergo social change and as a result is meeting some of the critical problems in that area.

MEMO to Father Vincent Collins, Pastor of St. John of Rochester:

I was grateful for the opportunity to speak to the Women's Club of your parish last week. It was good to see how much they are involved and how much they want to become involved in meeting the needs of the disadvantaged. It would seem that your parish has developed a great sense of concern outside itself. An attitude such as this can be most beneficial and helpful in our efforts to make the Church relevant in meeting the serious issues of our day.

Hurried decisions!

So often, families that have suddenly been left alone, have to make hurried important decisions for the one lasting service. During your life time, with every purchase you make, you have the opportunity to compare and inspect before you decide. Isn't it also wiser to know by comparison what funeral costs are, beforehand, rather than while under emotional stress?

We invite your comparison. You'll discover here that the best can often cost less than elsewhere.

Tips on Photos

The Courier-Journal welcomes interesting photographs to illustrate various parish activities. The photos must be of good quality technically; Polaroid prints rarely fill the bill. Because the round of activities varies little from parish to parish, it is the unusual picture that wins the competition for newspaper space.

The 47th Seton Branch will hold their annual tureen supper at the home of Mrs. William J. O'Neil, 57 Landsdowne Lane, Pittsford, on Tuesday, Feb. 24 at 6:30 p.m.

The monthly meeting of the LCBA will be held at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Feb. 23, at Our Lady of Perpetual Help.

The Rosary Society of Guardian Angels will serve a spaghetti dinner tomorrow, Feb. 21, from 5 until 9 in the school hall, 2061 E. Henrietta Road.

His A

By JOHN DASH

Father Thomas Erdle speaks with his hands. His congregation, drawn from all over the Rochester Diocese, hears him by following the intricate gestures that compose their language. They are the deaf. He is their priest.

The 40-year-old priest, who celebrated his birthday on Valentine's Day, is the coordinator of the apostolate to the deaf in the diocese.

Father Erdle introduces himself and his people by telling the story of Raymond Boduch, a 34-year-old electronics researcher in Buffalo.

"In my mind he is the most remarkable person I've ever met," Boduch is both deaf and blind. "Even though we don't meet each other very often, just by touching my hand, he knows me," Father Erdle says.

Boduch is a "ham" operator. He has invented a device by which he can receive Morse code through his ankle and can send replies via Morse over the air waves.

Father says that he is also able to communicate with his mother over long-distance telephone through another device he has invented. By phrasing his questions to his mother so they require a
