NATIONAL DIRECTOR

'A Modern Parable'

There once was a certain young executive from suburbia who dressed in fine clothes and dined at elegant clubs. And there was a certain poor man from India who longed to eat what others threw away.

Daily the young executive read of starvation, illiteracy, frustration and despair. He watched TV specials on hunger. "Why doesn't someone change all this?" he pondered. "If they were my neighbors . . ."

But the poor man's only dream was to have enough food for himself and his family.

And it came to pass that the poor man died and went to heaven. The young executive also died but he was condemned to everlasting punishment. In his torment, he cried out: "Why, O Lord, am I here? For what great sin am I punished?"

And the Lord answered: "Son, remember that in your lifetime, you received good things. You were blessed many times over. Your sin was not in receiving these gifts, but in your refusal to share them.

"You read of suffering around the world, but you refused to help."

"You heard cries of despair, but you refused to bring consolation."

"You saw that many needed the comfort of My words, but you refused to preach My gospel."

"My son, you did not understand that your neighbor is anyone in need!"

Have we yet come to this realization—that our neighbor is anyone in need? And in 1970 the needs are overwhelming—especially in countries less developed than our own. Food, clothing, shelter, medicine are the basic and desperate needs. But even deeper are the needs of comfort, consolation, inner peace and a conviction that someone cares.

Missionaries are concerned with all these needs for all our neighbors. The Society for the Propagation of the Faith is concerned, too. The Society supports missionaries who bring both physical and spiritual comfort.

The Society looks to you for your generosity, for your sacrifices, to continue its work of salvation and service. Remember: We cannot help unless you do.

Your neighbor is anyone in need. Do not refuse him!

SALVATION AND SERVICE are the work of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith. Please cut out this column and send your offering to Right Reverend Edward T. O'Meara, National Director, Dept. C., 366 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001, or directly to your local Diocesan Director, Rev. Joseph F. Reinhart, 50 Chestnut Street, Rochester, New York 14604.
