Members of the Junior Legion of Mary Rochester Curia representing nine area parishes proceed into Holy Rosary Church Sunday afternoon, April 12, for their annual renewal liturgy of Consecration to Blessed Virgin Mary.

Junior Legion of Mary Curia

Members of the Rochester Legion of Mary Junior Curia were urged recently to consider how they could become "a power structure" to help bring about social changes and aid the disadvantaged.

They were advised through their prayer life to become close to Christ through His Blessed Mother, and then to be more active in loving the poor and giving themselves to them.

Pleading for this concern was Father John J. Hempel, director of the Diocesan Office of Human Concern, during a sermon at the annual consecration (Acies) ceremony of the Junior Legion on Sunday, April 12, in Holy Rosary Church.

Officiating at the ceremony were Father Thomas H. Wheeland, Curia spiritual director, and several priests from parishes with Legion praesidia. These include Holy Cross, Holy Family, Holy Rosary, Our Mother of Sorrows, Our Lady of Perpetual Help, Sacred Heart, St. Andrew, St. Augustine, St. Cecelia, St. John the Evangelist, St. John of Rochester, St. Louis, St. Margaret Mary and St. Patrick.
