

Auburn CYO Awards Presented at Dinner

Auburn— St. Alphonsus walked off with most of the awards at the annual CYO Sports Award Dinner Sunday at the Ukrainian National Club.

In addition to winning the league and playoff championships, the St. A. team also had the league's most valuable player in Chuck Steveskey.

Coaches Jim Atkinson and Dave Clifford accepted the Ray Corcoran and Avery Neagle trophies which are the rotating symbols of supremacy plus two trophies donated by the Knights of Columbus for permanent possession.

Steveskey was awarded the Alfred G. Crowley Memorial Trophy by Mrs. Elizabeth Crowley, widow of the former Holy Family and Auburn Community College coach who also coached in the CYO League. This includes a permanent trophy and a huge rotating trophy for the winner.

Fred Ferguson, sponsor of the coveted Slat Whitney Award, presented the trophy to St. Bernard's of Scipio for displaying the best sportsmanship.

A special award was presented to the St. Alphonsus cheerleaders for copping the championship in the CYO cheerleading contest in Rochester.

Special mention was given to the coaches of the various teams and special thanks extended to the members and officers of the UNC for assistance in conducting the CYO program. Similar accolades were extended to Mount Carmel and St. Alphonsus for the use of their gymnasiums.

Boys' Director Named At Camp Stella Maris

Michael J. Mahler has been named director of the boys' camp at Stella Maris, a resident camp for boys and girls on Conesus Lake, entering its 44th year.

Mr. Mahler has been graduated from St. Andrew's Seminary and Becket Hall, and is completing his second year at St. Bernard's Seminary. He has been on the staff at Camp Stella Maris for five years. He has worked at St. Joseph's Villa as a recreation counselor for three years and has done volunteer work in the children's ward at Rochester State Hospital.

Mr. Mahler feels that he has an exceptionally fine staff this year, and this camping season should prove to be the best ever.

He said, "Registrations are now being accepted at the Camp Office, 50 Chestnut St., Rochester. We hope that the boys and girls will not delay sending in their registrations, so they Chuck Steveskey holds the rotating and permanent Alfred G. Crowley Memorial Trophies for being named the most valuable player in the Auburn CYO Basketball League. The St. Alphonsus eighth grader is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steveskey of Hurd Circle. His dad is athletic director and head cage coach at Auburn Community College.

Special guest for the program was Paul Schmidt, executive director of the CYO for the Rochester Diocese.

Introduced at the head table were: James Rizzo, Michael Kott, Sam DeRosa, Howard Miskell, Howard Lacey, James Wilson and Carl Festa, CYO board members; Charles Mace, dinner chairman; Mr. Neagle, Mrs. Crowley, Mr. Ferguson, Rev. Daniel Hogan, pastor of St. Bernard's; and Rocco Malvaso, grand knight of the Knights of Columbus.

may be sure to get the weeks of their choice."

Mr. Mahler is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Mahler, 53 Clarington St., Irondequoit.

Kings Face Aquinas

By TOM DOMALSKY

The Kearney nine will play against Catholic rival Aquinas this Sunday at Silver Stadium at 12:45.

The Kings also host Charlotte today at 4, and will visit West on Friday for a 4 p.m. game. On Monday, May 4, the Kings host the Monroe Redjackets.

The Highwaymen have gotten off to their worst start in Kearney baseball history. Having a problem with unsteady infielders and pitchers, they lost four out of the first five games.

Bowling Tourney Rolling

By BILL TATYGS

The 1970 edition of the Rochester Holy Name five-man bowling handicap tournament got underway on Saturday, April 18, at Empire Lanes, 2400 Empire Blvd., West Webster, when the Rev. Francis J. Pegnam, pastor of St. Thomas More Church and spiritual director of the Catholic Men's Bowling Association, sponsors of the tourney, rolled the first ball to launch the ten-pin event.

There are 825 entries from New York and Pennsylvania competing in the 1970 championship event, with $10,931.25 offered in 285 prizes and trophies, according to Fred Enders, secretary and tournament manager.

The tourney will conclude on Sunday, May 10, with the heaviest action concentrated on weekends.

Last week Wieand's Meats team from Buffalo was in first place with a 3029 handicap score, followed by the Chuckers of Tobins, 2977; Coletti's, Steak House, 2956; John's Barber Shop, Caledonia, 2952; Odd Five, 2931; L. W. Maiers, Seneca Lanes, 2916; Barbaro Bros., East Rochester, 2915; Marty's, Steak House, 2906 and "5" Aces, 2905.

Wieand's Meats from Buffalo also leads in the special prize division with their high team game scratch, 1055; high team single handicap game, 1093 and high team 3 game scratch, 2915. Second high team 3 game scratch, Coletti's, Steak House, 2800.

Richard Wiend, Wieand's Meats, rolled high individual 3 game scratch with 674 and Lou Poretti, John Begg Scotch, 664.

Kings Active On Many Fronts

The Bishop Kearney trackmen, led by captains Bob Masulis and John Terreri, will compete against Edison tech in a meet at East High on Tuesday.

The chief goal of the team this year is to beat McQuaid. They have never done it and the Black Knights are stronger than ever.

The McQuaid meet comes up on May 12 at McQuaid at 4 p.m.

The King tennis team takes on Charlotte today at 4 p.m. on the Lakesiders' courts. On Friday they host Monroe, and on Monday Aquinas.

Varsity golf gets under way with the Kings vs. the Orientals from East on Monday.

The matches will be held on Kearney's home course, Durand-Eastman, at 3:30.
