Pontiff Unlikely To See Much Of Australia

Canberra — (RNS) — Pope Paul VI will probably visit only Sydney, when he comes to Australia in November, according to Australian Radio.

It said that in response to a question in Parliament, Prime Minister Gorton made clear that he would welcome a visit of the Pope to Canberra, the capital.

However, he was quoted as saying that, in view of the time available to the Pope in Australia, "it was unlikely that he could visit any other area than Sydney."

The 72-year-old pontiff is scheduled to embark on a 25,000-mile air journey in November that will take him to Manila in the Philippines and to Sydney, to participate in Roman Catholic bishops' conferences.

Lodge Schedules Visit to Vatican

By BENNET BOLTON

Washington — (NC)—Henry Cabot Lodge intends to make his first extended visit to Rome in about two weeks, as President Nixon's newly named personal envoy to the Vatican, and will set up office in a hotel there.

The 67-year-old former U.S. ambassador to Saigon discussed his plans with NC News when reached by telephone at his Beverly, Mass., home a few minutes before the White House announced his appointment. He was given no formal diplomatic status, although he is ranked in the U.S. State Department as a roving ambassador.

"I'm deeply grateful for the honor," said Lodge, "I'm looking forward to visiting the Vatican. I pray that this will open up great opportunities for exchanging points of view that will advance the cause of peace."

Asked how soon he expected to make his initial visit to the Vatican in his new capacity, Lodge said he expected to go "toward the end of the month." He said he would remain in Rome "a few weeks" and would live in a hotel, maintaining an office there, rather than provide himself with a leased apartment.

Lodge was last received in papal audience on Jan. 16, 1967 — after he had ended two tours as ambassador in Vietnam for President Johnson and before heading the Paris negotiating team for President Nixon throughout 1969.

Nixon's decision to name Lodge marks the first time the United States has set up a personal emissary arrangement with the Vatican since President Franklin D. Roosevelt sent Myron C. Taylor over in February 1940 as his liaison man with Pope Pius XII, less than two years before American entry into World War II.

Ronald Ziegler, the White House press secretary, revealed that Nixon had asked Lodge to visit the Vatican "from time to time" and that Nixon believes the visits "will be in our national interest."

Ziegler said Lodge would be "conveying the views of the President and soliciting views" on those subjects at the Vatican. He said Nixon felt it was "important to have the benefit of the Vatican's information and views on a continuing basis."

Protestants Have Negative Reaction

Washington — (NC) — Protestant leaders have reacted negatively to President Nixon's nomination of Henry Cabot Lodge as his personal envoy to the Vatican.

The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, told NC News here he didn't like the reasons given for the appointment.

One of the reasons, he said, was that the Pope is "an outstanding moral leader," whose wisdom is worth seeking out. If that is the case, Dr. Blake asked, why doesn't the administration attempt to consult the moral leaders of the World Council of Churches and similar groups?

Dr. Glenn L. Archer, executive director of Americans United for Separation of Church and State, said he regards the appointment as "a violation of this nation's tradition of separation of church and state and a false appeal for Catholic votes."

"The appointment will do nothing but stir inter-confessional antagonisms and divide our people," he said.
