

Goldberg Meets Corning Students

Corning — Nobody won but everyone was nice in a confrontation here Wednesday, June 3, at the Baron Steuben Hotel.

Arthur J. Goldberg, Democratic gubernatorial hopeful was met by about 20 students from Corning's three parochial schools, St. Patrick's, St. Mary's and St. Vincent's.

The afternoon before Goldberg was slated to arrive in town, the students carried home permission forms for their parents to sign. The form said in part: "We were made aware that the Democratic candidates for governor are against aid to Catholic schools. We were asked to do something positive."

The positive action was a picket line outside the hotel and an impromptu question and answer period with Goldberg.

The Elmira Star Gazette said of the discussion: "Sounding not unlike a Supreme Court Justice handing down a ruling on Constitutional law, Goldberg said he opposed the repeal of the Blaine amendment."

Goldberg stated, "it seems very divisive to start a big argument over an academic issue that would revive the whole controversy over church and state."

Goldberg then requested Sister Mary Krukow, coordinating principal of the three Catholic schools, to make his opinion against prayer in public schools required reading for the students.
