

Seven St. Joseph novices will make their first commitment to the religious life in a special ceremony Sunday afternoon. The four standing in front in this photograph are Sisters Elizabeth Ann Beauchamp, Sheila Fullam, Margaret Mary Morris and Margaret Frank. Behind them stand Sisters Mary Seitzinger and Mary Maywalt. Sr. Jeanne Marie Day is seated at the right.

Novices to Make Commitment

On Sunday, June 21, seven novices in the Congregation of St. Joseph of Rochester will be making their first public expression of commitment to religious life. This commitment will be made in the form of a solemn promise, rather than as the "temporary vows" of the past.

These Sisters have lived in the Congregation for three years. At the Offertory of a special Mass at 4:30 p.m. in the Motherhouse Chapel, each Sister will say aloud her desire to devote herself to the love and service of God and His people through the observance of poverty, chastity and obedience as practiced by this Congregation, and in preparation for a perpetual profession in the future.

The Sisters who will be making the temporary commitment are:

Sister Mary Maywalt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Maywalt of St. Alphonsus Parish, Auburn; Sister Elizabeth Ann Beauchamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Antoine Beauchamp of St. Jerome Parish,

East Rochester; Sister Sheila Fullam, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William B. Fullam of St. Monica's Parish;

Sister Margaret Frank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Frank of Our Lady of Good Counsel Parish; Sister Jeanne Marie Day, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald V. Day of St. Alphonsus Parish, Auburn; Sister Margaret Mary Morris, daughter of Mr. Michael Morris and the late Mrs. Morris of St. Monica's Parish; Sister Mary Seitzinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard J. Seitzinger of St. Theodore's Parish.

Sisters Elizabeth Ann Beauchamp and Sheila Fullam will be teaching at St. Patrick's, Corning, and St. Thomas More, respectively. The others will continue their college studies.

BON VOYAGE PARTY FOR IRISH PRIEST

The people of Holy Name parish, Greece, will give a party for Father Timothy O'Shea this Friday night, June 19, from 8:30 until 12:30 at Cardinal Mooney High School.

Father O'Shea, of Cork, Ireland, has been a weekend assistant at Holy Name while taking graduate courses in sociology at the University of Rochester and working in the inner city. He will leave here June 28, to work among the poor of the Diocese of Leeds, England.

Father Thomas Reddington, pastor, said of his part-time assistant:

"He has made a wonderful contribution to our parish life, in that he has undertaken many parish works that were not being cared for. Our parish is very short handed, with two priests to care for over 1,200 families.

"His sermons and his hours in the confessional have been a great source of spiritual benefit. He has shown a particular interest in the young people."

INSURANCE GROUP NAMES CAMERON REGIONAL VP

Donald S. Cameron, Rochester general agent for National Life Insurance Company of Vermont, has been elected a regional vice president of the New York State Association of Life Underwriters.

Cameron is active in St. Salome's parish affairs. He is an alumnus of Rochester Institute of Technology.
