Collegiality Seen Root of Harmony

Miami Beach, Fla. — (NC)—The spiritual leader of 100,000 U.S. Melkite-rite Catholics said discord among Latin-rite Catholics will end only when collegiality is established more firmly.

"The spirit of confrontation current among many Catholic clergy and even hierarchy today is due to the loss of the sense of collegiality in the Western Church," said Archbishop Joseph Tawil, exarch for the U.S. Melkite-rite Catholics.

"When the West finds means of reconciling in current life the doctrine of the Roman primacy with the tradition of episcopal collegiality, then will the Church rediscover its harmony and balance," the 56-year-old archbishop told some 500 delegates to the Melkite Association of North America convention.

The prelate, a native of Damascus, Syria, said the Western Church had lost collegiality and only since Vatican Council II tried to rediscover it.

"The Eastern Church has known it, lived it and put it into practice for centuries," he continued. "The patriarchal institution of the East is not dissociated from the collegiality of the bishops and no matter now far back we look, we find it in the East in the synod of bishops presided over by the one principal bishop, the patriarch."

Movie Industry Enters 'Curious' Obscenity Suit

Washington — (NC) — The motion picture industry and the nation's theater owners have asked the U.S. Supreme Court to guarantee movies the same freedom from censorship that is given book and magazine publishers.

In an apparent move to prevent states from banning movies scheduled for national release, the Motion Picture Association of America (MPAA) and the National Association of Theater Owners (NATO) filed a friend-of-court brief in the case before the high tribunal involving whether the Swedish movie "I Am Curious (Yellow)" is obscene.

The organizations asked that movies be judged by the same liberal obscenity standards now applied to books and magazines.

The "Curious" case raises the question of whether states can require distributors to submit movies for approval before public showings.

We'd like to set you straight in this matter of checking accounts.

When we say ours is free, we mean just that. Absolutely free.

No gimmicks anywhere. Free personalized checks (as many as you want), free monthly statements, no minimum balances, free bank-by-mail postage. The works.

Some other banks we know also try to make this statement.

Nonsense.

If you've got to qualify for a line of credit to get your "free" checks, then they're not free. It's as simple as that.

Suppose you overdraw your account. They'll cover your checks alright—to the tune of 18% interest on funds transferred. It's just one more nasty way to make money on their customers' money.

As the littlest bank in town, we think too much of our customers to charge them for the use of their own money. We formulate our own policies—the kind that put you first—because we're still the only locally owned and governed commercial bank around.

And we do everything else a good bank is supposed to do, too. As well or better than the biggest of them.

Lines of credit? Sure. Master Charge Cards? Absolutely. Not to mention the highest available interest rates on your savings dollars and loan policies which are as flexible and generous as you're apt to find anywhere.

We've got the rest of the set, too. Travelers checks, savings bonds, trust services, money orders, safe deposit boxes, Christmas Clubs, bank drafts, letters of credit, collateral loans, et al.

Best of all, perhaps, is the fact that we'll do our level best, bend over backwards, to give you the sort of service we think you deserve.

Let us prove it. Give us just a few of your tired dollars (not the whole bag) and put us to the test. We think you'll be so spoiled, you'll never look back.

What have you got to lose?
