

Priest's Assignment At Glove House Ends

Elmira — In a mutual agreement, Catholic Family Service and Elmira's Glove House decided last week to terminate a contract which has provided the House with the part-time services of Father Joseph F. D'Aurizio, executive director of Catholic Family Service here.

Richard H. Evans, Glove House president, noted that Father D'Aurizio had been appointed last November to help get the House started "and bring it to a certain point in its development." It has reached that point, he said.

In an unusual arrangement, with approval of the Rochester Diocese and the Elmira Community Chest, Father D'Aurizio has been serving as Glove House administrator for half of each week, at an annual salary of $4,000.

Glove House is for youths from 16 to 21 years of age who have no homes or who have been living in unstable family environments. Located at 510 W. Church St., it is now serving eight boys. Its general aim is to provide boys in school with help to remain there, and to aid those who have finished school to find jobs.
